TWO CENTS

SHOT DOWN BY A TRAMP AS HE ENTERED HIS BARN

Andrew Miller, a Wealthy Citizen Near Bayard, This County, the Victim of a Murderous Assault.

THREE BULLETS FIRED AND ALL HIT HIM

He Received Ugly Wounds and Will Probably Die—His Assailant Ran and Officers Are Now Looking For Him—The Motive Is Supposed to Have Been Robbery—Suspicious Strangers Seen by Neighbors—One Suspect Caught by Noragon.

Murder may result from an attack upon Andrew Miller, a prominent and wealthy citizen near Bayard, this county, early this morning.

Miller is at his home in a dangerous condition. His supposed assailant has been arrested and is being hurried by Sheriff Noragon to the scene of the assault, to see if Miller can identify him before he loses consciousness.

Miller, who is about 65 years old, lives on a farm about a mile southwest of Bayard, between that town and Minerva. He is a prosperous farmer and holds stock in the Minerva bank. He is a bachelor and lives with two sisters. He has a hired man whose name is Jacob Adams. Mr. Miller's farm adjoins that which is owned by President McKinley.

About daylight this morning, Mr. Miller, as has long been his custom, went to the barn and assisted his hired man with the chores. Adams was busy currying the horses, and Mr. Miller, who had been in the barn but a few seconds, had started to feed the cows. Suddenly he was accosted by a stranger. Accounts differ as to whether any word was spoken, some asserting that the man said "Good morning, Andrew," while others say that he opened fire without a word. At all events the intruder drew a revolver and fired three shots in rapid succession.

Every shot took effect upon the old man. One struck him in the chest and passed through one lung; another broke his shoulder blade and the third struck him in the face, entering the mouth and breaking some of Mr. Miller's teeth.

Mr. Miller is old but energetic. He gave chase to his assailant, who had taken to his heels after the third shot. But wounded as he was, and bleeding badly, he could not keep up the chase against his younger and sounder rival. He soon sank down exhausted, and as soon as he had rested a little and returned to the house.

Adams, meantime, had joined in the pursuit. He had been a little slow about it. This he explains by saying that the horses were tramping and kicking, making so much noise that he did not hear the shots or know what had occurred until the screams of the excited women in the house attracted his attention. Adams jumped upon a horse, dashed on the road and followed the fugitive, but soon lost all trace of him. The man ran in the direction of East Rochester and then towards New Chambersburg. At the latter place all trace of him was lost. But the people of Moultrie noted the appearance of a suspicious stranger there this morning. He said he was a stock buyer and talked of a carload of stock which he had shipped and was looking after. He walked away along the railroad track. But he kept looking back, as if he expected pursuit. Those who saw and talked with him say he appeared nervous and excited.

Sheriff Noragon and Deputy Bick started out to investigate on the first report of the tragedy reaching Lisbon. The sheriff proceeded to Alliance, where he learned all he could about the tragedy. Thence he went to Homeworth, where he secured a horse and buggy. With all haste he proceeded on the track of the suspicious stranger and overtook him. The man was arrested and the sheriff started with all possible speed for Miller's home. He will take the arrested man there in the hope of arriving before the wounded man loses consciousness.

Latest reports from Bayard are that Miller is likely to die from the wound in his lung. The motive for the crime is supposed to have been robbery. A suspicious character was seen about the neighborhood yesterday, and it is thought he was lurking in the barn, awaiting an opportunity to rob the house, perhaps when the women were alone there.

The first report that reached the city this morning was far more exciting and sensational than the actual facts. It was to the effect that ex-County Commissioner Elwood Miller, who lives near Adair, was shot by two robbers and was dead. But inquiry soon developed that the ex-commissioner had not been molested, and that somebody had mixed the names of the two Millers.

AN EXCITED CROWD

SURROUNDS MILLER'S HOUSE AND TALKS OF LYNCHING.

The Arrested Man Proves to Be Charles Staub, And Is From Alliance.

Alliance, April 18.—(Special.)—The man arrested by Sheriff Noragon on suspicion of shooting Andrew Miller proves to be Charles Staub, son of John Staub, of this city. His conduct is regarded as suspicious, and it is believed here that he is the right man.

A message just received from Bayard states that there are 500 people around the Miller house, and some of them say they will lynch Staub if Mr. Miller identifies him.

MILLER STILL ALIVE

A message from Bayard says a Salineville report of Miller's death is untrue. Miller was still alive at 3:15. Another arrest is reported at Salineville.

CAR 11 JUMPED THE TRACK ON SIXTH STREET

Came Near Standing on End and Ran Six Feet on the Bricks. Conductor Hurt.

Car No. 11, in charge of Motorman Kinkade, jumped the track at the old Sixth street switch last evening, and about a dozen passengers were more or less shaken up.

The car was bound for Wellsville, and when it reached the switch was running at a high rate of speed. The tracks at the approach to the switch have been out of order for some time, and when No. 11 struck the bad place the front wheels stopped causing the car to almost stand on end. Then it ran for a distance of about six feet, rooting up the bricks along the track. Conductor Lane fared pretty badly. He was standing on the rear platform, and when the jar came he was thrown forward against a window. The window broke, cutting his right hand severely. It was some time before the car was replaced.

Judge Hole Is Deliberating on the Legality of the East Liverpool Screen Ordinance—Charles Gallagher's Case Before Judge Boone.

Lisbon, April 18.—(Special.)—When each side were ready to make a start on the arguments for a new trial before Judge Boone today in the Metzger case, the defense sprung a surprise in the shape of six affidavits, which the court was asked to consider. It was announced that another was being prepared and would be presented immediately.

This move changed the plans of the prosecution, and they at once filed a motion for a continuance. Judge Boone will hear arguments this afternoon.

Judge Hole is deliberating on the matter of the legality of the East Liverpool screen ordinance. He said this morning he could not state when he would be prepared to render his decision.

Judge P. M. Smith yesterday presented the matter to the court on behalf of the city, simply citing authorities and references. Briefs were prepared and submitted to the court by the attorneys on each side.

Charles Gallagher, colored, was placed on trial in Judge Boone's court last evening. He is charged with running an immoral house in East Liverpool. The evidence disclosed that the business was conducted by Gallagher on a jobboat on the Ohio river and was a place of the most degraded sort. Judge Boone has taken the matter under advisement, stating that he has no doubt whatever of the guilt of the prisoner, but is in doubt as to whether the crime charged was committed in Ohio or in West Virginia, as the low water mark on the Ohio side is the boundary line of the two states. There is also a question as to whether the statutes applying to a house of the sort Gallagher kept would apply to a boat.

Judge J. G. Moore, receiver of the First National bank of Lisbon, in court today, asked Judge Hole for authority to sell the bank property on the public square. He has been offered $8,000 for it. The court ordered him to sell it.

Luther Wells and Evaline Armstead, of Salem; William P. Rosenberg, of Wellsville, and Augusta Flo-to, of Yellow Creek township; Edward Hollibaugh and Lydia Wilhelm, of Columbiana, have been granted marriage licenses.

The case of Katherine Carraher against the East Liverpool Ice & Coal company was set for hearing in common pleas court this afternoon, but was passed on account of the illness of a material witness.

FOUGHT FIVE WITH A BROOM.

Street Railway Employee's Unsuccessful Experiment.

The "Nancy Hanks" is doing some work near the Riverview cemetery and is compelled to make several trips up the hill during the day. Yesterday afternoon it was on its way up the hill and had reached Grant street when a fuse was blown out and the car became ignited from the burning wires.

The man employed to sweep the track happened to be on the car and he endeavored to beat the fire out with a broom. He was unsuccessful, as the broom caught fire, and, becoming ignited, threw it through a window. He then ran to a well nearby and securing some water extinguished the flames before any great damage was done to the car.

THE BRICKLAYERS' TROUBLES END

A Conference Held Last Evening With the Contractors Resulted In a Settlement.

THERE WILL BE NO STRIKE

The Workmen Will Receive $4 Per Day for Eight Hours—The Relations Between the Building Trades And Employes Cordial.

The anticipated trouble among the building trades is at an end as far as the brick contractors are concerned.

It was the intention of the bricklayers to go out on the first of May unless their demands were acceded to. Shortly after the first of the year, the employes formed a scale of prices which not only provided for a shorter work day, but demanded an increase in pay. It was argued by the contractors that lessening the hours at the old rate of wages would be an increase in the pay, and was about all they could stand.

Numerous discussions and conferences have been held from time to time, but no definite conclusion was reached until last night, when the two sides got together and reached an agreement whereby there will be no further trouble this season.

The basis of the settlement was that the eight-hour day will be granted, but the rate of wages will remain the same. In other words, beginning with the first of May, the bricklayers will receive $4 per day, or 50 cents an hour for eight hours.

Since the hod carriers' strike has been settled, the two principal building trades, namely, the carpenters and bricklayers, are working under conditions which are most satisfactory to all concerned, and a busy season is anticipated.

NO GENERAL STRIKE.

McKeesport Trouble Will Be Settled And Strike of Steel Workers Avoided.

Pittsburg, April 18.—(Special.)—It has been announced that the McKeesport strike will be declared off this afternoon, thus avoiding a general steel strike.

Mrs. Frank Chidester, of Front street, Wellsville, was taken suddenly ill and died in about five minutes yesterday afternoon. Heart disease was the cause of her death.

Mrs. Chidester was preparing to move to Bellaire, O., where her son had secured employment in the yards of the B. & O. railroad. She is survived by one son, William, with whom she resided in Wellsville, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Stevenson and Mrs. Jessie Potts, both of this city.

A MISSING MAN.

He Belongs in Iowa And Officers Here Are Notified.

Chief Thompson this morning received a card containing a minute description of E. B. Wilson, who mysteriously disappeared from his home in Rock Valley, Iowa, on February 1, 1901. The communication was from A. J. Henry, deputy sheriff of Orange county, Ia., and stated that the wife was grief stricken and the family had become destitute.

STARVING A DOG

The Charge Which Is Brought By an Officer Against an East End Man.

An East End officer is authority for the statement that action will be brought by the Humane society against an East End man unless he immediately puts an end to an attempt to starve a stray dog which drifted on his premises last week. The man states that the dog followed an English family who moved from Calcutta road to the East End. He says it killed a chicken in his yard and that he locked it up and requested a police officer to shoot it.

The officer refused to do so unless the man tried to find out whether any one claimed the dog. The other man said that he would starve it if the officer would not shoot it. It is claimed that he has not given the animal anything to eat since last Saturday, and still says he will starve it to death.

FELL FROM A TRAIN

Ed Ryan Saved From Death By the Timely Assistance of Tom Collins.

Ed Ryan, a kilnhand at the National pottery, fell under a moving train yesterday and would have been ground to pieces had it not been for the timely assistance of Tom Collins, who was standing near at the time, and who jerked Mr. Ryan from the car, the wheel grazing his head as it passed.

The "pony" was running cars on the siding at this plant and Mr. Ryan caught his toe under a board just as he stepped to the door and fell headlong under a car. The car was moving slowly, which enabled Mr. Collins to pull him from in under it just in time to save his life.

KNOCKED A GIRL DOWN

Charge Made Against Earl Kidder, Aged 12, By Mrs. John Young.

Mrs. John Young made complaint in Justice Carman's court last evening against Earl, the 12-year-old son of Alonzo Kidder, who, she alleges, did "unlawfully beat and abuse" her daughter, aged 11. It seems that a scrap was on between one younger male member of each family and the little girl tried to separate them, whereupon Earl Kidder, who was also looking on, is said to have struck her in the face with sufficient force to knock her down.

Officer Spence was deputized constable and arrested the boy, who pleaded not guilty. His father vouched for his appearance and the case was set for hearing at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Fear the Stack Will Fall.

A rickety smoke stack at the rear of the old Chambers building has caused some anxiety to nearby residents, who claim that it is likely to fall at any time. Either way that it could fall it would strike the roof of a house, which it would doubtless injure considerably. The building belongs to the local building and loan association, and an attempt will be made to have it removed.

Attended a Funeral.

Richard Laughlin and family left this morning for Beaver to attend the funeral of Mr. Laughlin's aunt, Mrs. Johnson Laughlin, who died of a complication of diseases Tuesday night. The funeral services were held at the house at 10 o'clock this morning and interment was made at Salem cemetery, near Black Hawk, Pa.

He expects to open it up to the public next Saturday. Miss Kate Hamilton, of Smith's Ferry, is dangerously ill with typhoid fever. Miss Hamilton is well known in the East End.

FOUGHT AND KICKED.

A West End Lad Said to Have Abused Teacher and Aunt—Jethro And Vicinity.

A good deal of excitement was caused among the residents of the West End and the pupils at the school building there by the alleged misconduct of a pupil, James Arb, a youth of 12 years, it is said, has been causing trouble for his mother and teacher for several months. The lad attends school in the second room of the West End building. When the teacher attempted to reprove him for some offense yesterday, it is claimed he fought her desperately, kicking her and tearing her dress and also indulging in bad language.

The teacher seemed unable to handle him and decided to send to the city building for assistance. The boy is reported to have got out of the building, and it is said when his aunt tried to take him home, he treated her in about the same way he had treated the teacher. His sick mother then came after him and neighbors say he threw dirt in her eyes and ran. When he reached Jethro he hid in a chicken coop. One of the older boys started in search of him and found him there later. He tied the youngster's hands and feet and carried him to his home, where he locked him in the cellar.

The boy's father is dead, and it is said that his mother has decided to send him to the reform school, as she is unable to control him. It was stated that the authorities would take him to Lancaster very soon.

Cruelty to Animals Charged.

It is stated that some of the residents of the Lisbon road will make complaint to the Humane society officers against a certain colored man who works a horse without feeding it enough to sustain it. The animal got down in the road last night and was allowed to remain there the rest of the night. It was taken to a stable this morning.

LOOKING AFTER THE HORSES.

Agent Miller, of the Humane Society, Watching Cruel Drivers.

Humane Agent Miller has begun the promised crusade against cruelty to animals, and he states the agitation has only started.

Yesterday at the new building being excavated on Sixth street, a horse was noticed which was considerably the worse for work, and was in no condition to perform the task set upon it.

Agent Miller, when he became aware of the condition of the animal, at once ordered it taken from the wagon. The driver was loath to comply at first, but soon learned that the officer meant business.

EX-POSTMASTER SENTENCED.

Jackson, of Maximo, Must Go to Prison And Pay a Fine.

Cleveland, April 18.—John P. Jackson, ex-postmaster at Maximo, O., entered a plea of guilty in the United States district court to the indictment charging him with embezzling post-office funds. Jackson has held the position of agent and telegrapher for the Pennsylvania Railroad company in Maximo for 20 years. He was highly esteemed.

Judge Wing imposed a sentence of six months in the Ohio penitentiary and assessed a fine of $166.77, the amount of the shortage in the accounts of the accused.

MARKET IRREGULAR.

Excessively So on Wednesday—Some Speculators Long of Stock Nervous.

New York, April 18.—Wednesday's market was excessively irregular, showing the decidedly nervous state of mind which speculators have come to be in who are long of stock, as well as the watchful mood for weak points to develop of those who are short. The battle between the two elements waged all day with varying success, and the market closed with the issue apparently undecided, although a review of the net changes for the day will show that the bears had the best of the contest, taking the day through. The bulls contested the onslaught of their opponents with vigor and determination and had fairly the upper hand of them after the opening drive against the market. Even after the last dip in prices, which carried quotations to the lowest of the day, the bulls were still in full array, vigorously supporting prices here and there and boldly manipulating advances in a number of stocks. The only point of positive strength in the list were in the Southwestern railroad division. An effort was made to revive speculative excitement by bringing up the rumors of a Southwestern merger. During the period of the first retreat of the bears the movement in this department proved an effective leadership in the market, led by Kansas and Texas preferred. New York Central and some of the other trunk lines also showed signs of strength, and Sugar, Peoples Gas and the Smelting stocks made effective auxiliaries in the demonstration of the bulls. Very little was left, however, of these advances after the final reaction, but the Atchisons were moved vigorously upwards, the common rising 2½ over Tuesday night, in the final effort of the bulls to turn the market. Prices rallied while the room shorts were uncovered, but went off again on renewed selling, making the closing unsettled and irregular, with some stocks at the lowest.

The threatened strike of iron and steel workers was a continued influence towards depression, and United States Steel stocks were heavy all day, ruling a fraction under Tuesday throughout. The weather bureau's weekly crop report showing retarded developments by reason of cool weather may have had some influence. But the movement of the market was principally due to technical causes. The more favorable money conditions were ignored. The gain by the banks from the sub-treasury, which has already reached $4,000,000 this week, and the arrested overflow of cash to the interior give pretty good assurance of a favorable bank statement on Saturday. The sterling exchange market was rather soft, notwithstanding the increased supply here of loanable funds, so that the outflow of gold is pretty certainly deferred beyond this week. The range of prices during the day was extremely wide, reaching from 2 to 4 points in nearly all of the most active stocks. The bond market continued active, but the price movement was irregular. Total sales, par value, $5,305,000. U. S. old 4s, regular, declined ¼ and do coupon ½ per cent on the last call.

It Has Happened

More than once that a child has been carried off by an eagle. When such a thing does happen the press rings with the story. There's not a line given by the press to the babies carried off daily by disease. It isn't the fact of the child being taken away that is startling or interesting, it's only when the method of taking off is novel that it excites interest. How many children die who might have been saved if the mother who bore them had been able to give them strength and vitality. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes healthy mothers and healthy mothers have healthy children, strong enough to resist disease if they are attacked.

Mrs. Axel Kjer, of Gordonville, Cape Girardeau Co., Mo., writes: "When I look at my little boy I feel it my duty to write to you. This is my fifth child and the only one who came to maturity, the others having died from lack of nourishment—so the doctor said. This time I just thought I would try your 'Prescription.' I took nine bottles and to my surprise it carried me through and gave us as fine a little boy as ever was. Weighed ten and one-half pounds. He is now five months old, has never been sick a day, and is so strong that everybody who sees him wonders at him."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels healthy and regular.

STARVING A DOG

The Charge Which is Brought By an Officer Against an East End Man.

An East End officer is authority for the statement that action will be brought by the Humane society against an East End man unless he immediately puts an end to an attempt to starve a stray dog which drifted on his premises last week. The man states that the dog followed an English family who moved from Calcutta road to the East End. He says it killed a chicken in his yard and that he locked it up and requested a police officer to shoot it.

The officer refused to do so unless the man tried to find out whether any one claimed the dog. The other man said that he would starve it if the officer would not shoot it. It is claimed that he has not given the animal anything to eat since last Saturday, and still says he will starve it to death.

FELL FROM A TRAIN

Ed Ryan Saved From Death By the Timely Assistance of Tom Collins.

Ed Ryan, a kilnhand at the National pottery, fell under a moving train yesterday and would have been ground to pieces had it not been for the timely assistance of Tom Collins, who was standing near at the time, and who jerked Mr. Ryan from the car, the wheel grazing his head as it passed.

The "pony" was running cars on the siding at this plant and Mr. Ryan caught his toe under a board just as he stepped to the door and fell headlong under a car. The car was moving slowly, which enabled Mr. Collins to pull him from in under it just in time to save his life.

KNOCKED A GIRL DOWN

Charge Made Against Earl Kidder, Aged 12, By Mrs. John Young.

Mrs. John Young made complaint in Justice Carman's court last evening against Earl, the 12-year-old son of Alonzo Kidder, who, she alleges, did "unlawfully beat and abuse" her daughter, aged 11. It seems that a scrap was on between one younger male member of each family and the little girl tried to separate them, whereupon Earl Kidder, who was also looking on, is said to have struck her in the face with sufficient force to knock her down.

Officer Spence was deputized constable and arrested the boy, who pleaded not guilty. His father vouched for his appearance and the case was set for hearing at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Fear the Stack Will Fall.

A rickety smoke stack at the rear of the old Chambers building has caused some anxiety to nearby residents, who claim that it is likely to fall at any time. Either way that it could fall it would strike the roof of a house, which it would doubtless injure considerably. The building belongs to the local building and loan association, and an attempt will be made to have it removed.

Attended a Funeral.

Richard Laughlin and family left this morning for Beaver to attend the funeral of Mr. Laughlin's aunt, Mrs. Johnson Laughlin, who died of a complication of diseases Tuesday night. The funeral services were held at the house at 10 o'clock this morning and interment was made at Salem cemetery, near Black Hawk, Pa.

He expects to open it up to the public next Saturday. Miss Kate Hamilton, of Smith's Ferry, is dangerously ill with typhoid fever. Miss Hamilton is well known in the East End.

GENERAL IS MISSING

Fire Destroyed the Quarters of Count Von Waldersee at Peking.

CHIEF OF STAFF DISAPPEARED

Large Forces of Chinese Were Said to Have Gathered in Shan Si Province—Well Informed Natives Predicted Further Trouble.

Peking, April 18.—Trustworthy Chinese report that troops in large numbers are massing in the province of Shan Si, near the frontier of the province of Chi Li. Well informed natives prophecy further trouble. It is impossible to ascertain whether the court is playing a double game or its authority is insufficient to prevent the Chinese generals acting in a manner likely to provoke hostilities.

Probably a great deal will depend upon the Franco-German expedition inflicting a severe defeat upon the Chinese who have transgressed the agreement by entering into the sphere of the allies. If these offenders are thoroughly punished it is likely to produce a good effect.

The palace of the empress, inhabited by Count Von Waldersee and his staff, was burned to the ground. Major General Schwartzkopf, Count Von Waldersee's chief of staff, has disappeared. With the exception of the military papers, everything was destroyed.

DUPLICITY OF LI.

A Missionary Brought Conclusive Evidence to Peking.

Peking, April 18.—A missionary named Killie (the Rev. Mr. Kelley, Presbyterian missionary?) returned from San Ho, where Christians were burned to death in December. Mr. Killie reported to General Chaffee that some time ago several of his converts were killed. He had the guilty parties tried in the Chinese courts, where they were convicted and sentenced to death, subject to Li Hung Chang's signature. Mr. Killie came to Peking and saw Li Hung Chang, who said the men should be executed immediately. Upon going to San Ho about three weeks later the missionary found the men alive. He spoke to a judge of the Chinese courts on the matter, who thereupon showed him a letter from Li Hung Chang giving explicit instructions that the men must not be executed, as they had only been convicted on the testimony of Christians, consequently the evidence was untrustworthy. Mr. Killie has a copy of this letter. In the meantime the French had proved the same men guilty of incendiarism and other outrages and demanded their execution, whereupon the judge again showed his orders from Li Hung Chang. The French authorities replied that if the men were not executed within eight days they would take the law into their own hands and punish the Chinese officials likewise.

STATUS OF THE CUBANS.

Cockrell Explains Why Islanders Must Accept Platt Amendment.

Washington, April 18.—Senators Proctor, of Vermont, and Cockrell, of Missouri, had a conference with the president regarding the situation in Cuba. The senators have made trips to the island since the adjournment of congress.

"The Cubans," said Senator Cockrell, "apparently do not fully grasp their status. They are not now a government. They have no power to treat diplomatically with the United States. The present constitutional convention was called into being through our agency. It only has power to submit to the United States for approval a plan or constitution for a representative government. If we reject it outright, the existing status continues. They can do nothing. But if the modifications and conditions which we propose are accepted, then they can proceed to organize a representative government. Until such a government is organized the troops of the United States, in my opinion, cannot be withdrawn. I am firmly convinced that the convention, after it hears the report of the commission which it has sent here will accept the Platt amendment."

Sipes, W. P. Hastings.

AMERICAN CATHOLICS.

THAT CHURCH FLOURISHING IN FREE COUNTRY.

Ireland Dilates on the Church's Progress—Bigotry Disappears. Pallium to Keane.

Dubuque, Ia., April 18.—In St. Raphael's Catholic church Archbishop John J. Keane was invested with the pallium, the insignia of the high position he occupies in the Roman Catholic church.

While the absence of Mgr. Martinelli was marked, it detracted none from the grandeur of the scene, which was far beyond that occasion of Sept. 17, 1893, when Mgr. Satolli, now a member of the Sacred Congregation, Rome, conferred the pallium upon the late Archbishop Hennessey in this same cathedral.

The ceremonies opened with a procession of clergy and attendants, in which the cardinal, archbishops, bishops and priests took part, clad in full vestments of their rank. Passing from the archiepiscopal residence, the procession entered the cathedral and moved up the main aisle to the altar. Within the sanctuary Cardinal Gibbons ascended the throne on the left, which had been yielded to him by Archbishop Keane, the latter occupying a temporary throne on the right which he had erected for himself. About these two principals were Archbishops Keane, St. Louis; Katzer, Milwaukee; Elder, Cincinnati; Ireland, St. Paul, and in their company were Bishops Spaulding and his coadjutor, O'Reilly, Peoria, Ill.; Eis, Marquette, Mich.; Messmer, Green Bay, Wis.; Trobee, St. Cloud, Minn.; O'Gorman, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Tierney, Hartford, Conn.; Cotter, Winona, Minn.; Hennessey, Wichita, Kan.; Foley, Detroit, Mich.; Maes, Covington, Ky.; Schwebach, La Crosse, Wis.; Glennon, Kansas City; Burke, St. Joseph, Mo.; Scannell, Omaha; Burke, Albany, N. Y.; Cosgrove, Davenport, Ia.; Linehan, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Bonacum, Lincoln, Neb.; McCloskey, Louisville, Ky.; Harkins, Providence, R. I.; Jansen, Belleville, Ill.; Chatard, Indianapolis, Ind.; and Hobart, Scranton, Pa. Mgr. Ryan, vicar general of the diocese of Dubuque, and nearly 400 priests.

Archbishop Kane, of St. Louis, in full canonicals, ascended the altar and began the celebration of pontifical high mass. His assistant priest was the Very Rev. Mr. Gunn, Cedar Rapids; deacon, the Very Rev. Mr. McLaughlin, Clinton; sub-deacon, the Very Rev. Mr. O'Connor, Carroll, and some 20 others. The Rev. Messrs. Toomey, Daulton, Barry, Fitzpatrick and Carey were masters of ceremonies.

The music was Gounod's "Messe Solennelle," sung by a choir of 60 persons. At the close of the mass Cardinal Gibbons, with imposing ceremony, conferred the pallium upon Archbishop Keane. The cardinal's assistants were the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Ryan, V. G. Dubuque, and the Rev. Clement Johannes, Dubuque. Following the investiture Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, delivered the sermon of the day. A congratulatory address from the clergy of the diocese was made by the Rev. Dr. Carroll, president of St. Joseph's college, Dubuque, and Archbishop Keane's reply closed the ceremonies at the church.

The subject of the installation speech of Archbishop Ireland was on "The Church in America—Its Yesterday and Its Tomorrow." He said in part:

"Three quarters of a century, a half century ago, anti-Catholic prejudice was dominant in the land, our non-Catholic fellow citizens were not to be blamed; they had not known Catholics as Catholics are, and they treated according to what they believed of them. But today in America the reign of ill-feeling and animosity has passed away. In America Catholics and non-Catholics differ from one another in creeds and spiritual allegiance; but, as true Americans, they respect one another and accord to one another their civil and social freedom, all working together in peace and harmony for the greatest good of society and of country.

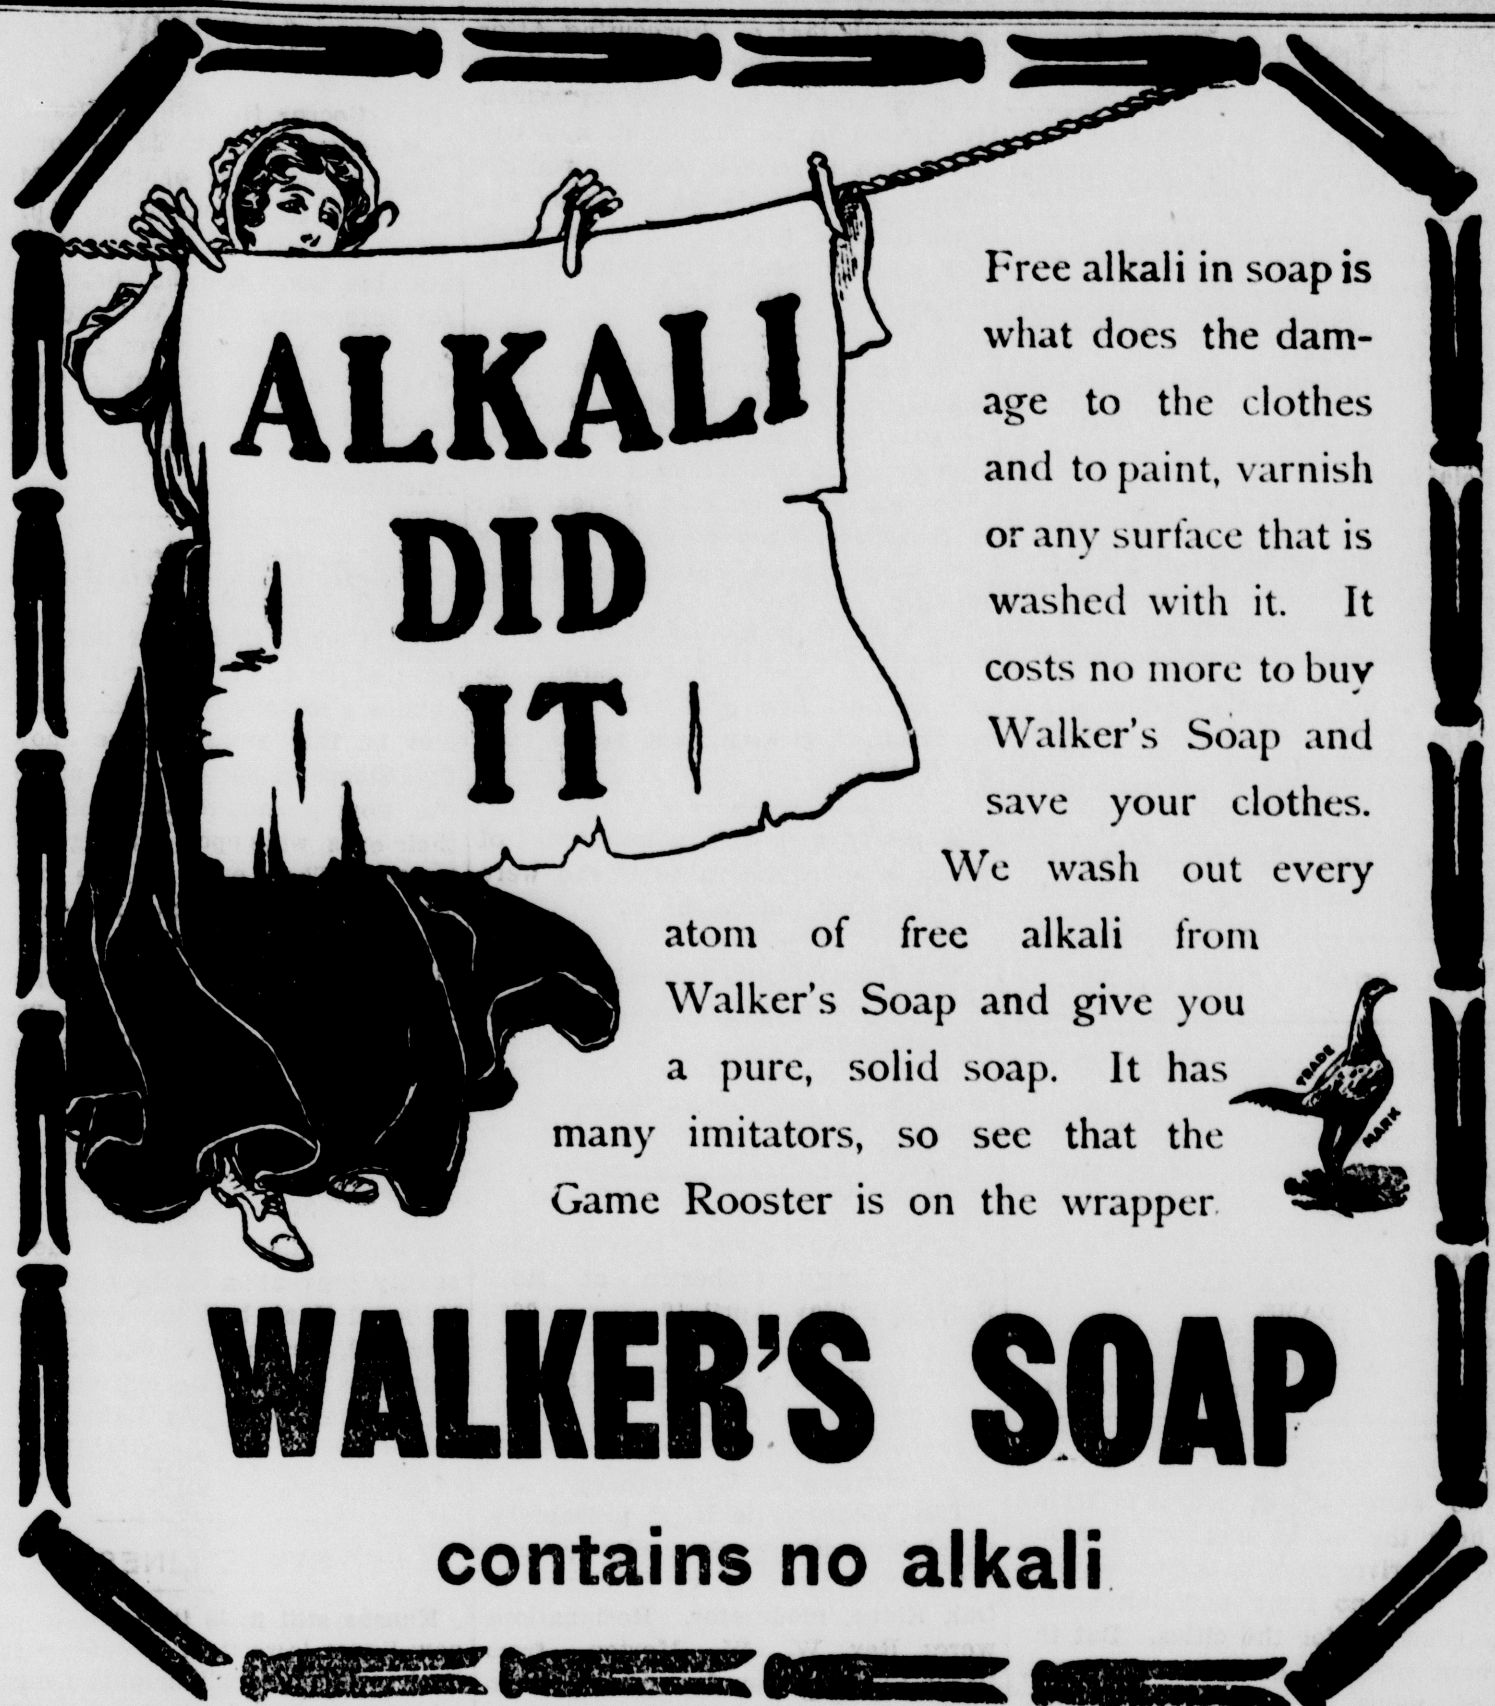

"In America the Catholic faith was on trial, and so was democracy itself in its relation with religion, and here is the cause of so many attacks made on the American church. Those attacks covertly are attacks on democracy. It would have been most convenient for reactionary theorists to be able to say to Catholics the world over, your church cannot thrive in a democracy, in the full freedom which democracy insures. Thank God, to such theorists, both America and the Catholic church and American democracy have given the saddest disappointment.

"Let us be just to America, and know and proclaim that nowhere, all things duly considered, is the church freer than in America, is she allowed to live in untrammelled freedom, and to prosper as her forces and the zeal of her sons permit."

GENERAL IS MISSING

Fire Destroyed the Quarters of Count Von Waldersee at Pekin.

CHIEF OF STAFF DISAPPEARED

Large Forces of Chinese Were Said to Have Gathered in Shan Si Province—Well Informed Natives Predicted Further Trouble.

Pekin, April 18.—Trustworthy Chinese report that troops in large numbers are massing in the province of Shan Si, near the frontier of the province of Chi Li. Well informed natives prophesy further trouble. It is impossible to ascertain whether the court is playing a double game or its authority is insufficient to prevent the Chinese generals acting in a manner likely to provoke hostilities.

Probably a great deal will depend upon the Franco-German expedition indicating a severe defeat upon the Chinese who have transgressed the agreement by entering into the sphere of the allies. If these offenders are thoroughly punished it is likely to produce a good effect.

The palace of the empress, inhabited by Count Von Waldersee and his staff, was burned to the ground. Major General Schwartzkopf, Count Von Waldersee's chief of staff, has disappeared. With the exception of the military papers, everything was destroyed.

DUPLICITY OF LI.

A Missionary Brought Conclusive Evidence to Pekin.

Pekin, April 18.—A missionary named Killie (the Rev. Mr. Kelley, Presbyterian missionary?) returned from San Ho, where Christians were burned to death in December. Mr.
Killie reported to General Chaffee that some time ago several of his converts were killed. He had the guilty parties tried in the Chinese courts, where they were convicted and sentenced to death, subject to Li Hung Chang's signature. Mr. Killie came to Pekin and saw Li Hung Chang, who said the men should be executed immediately. Upon going to San Ho about three weeks later the missionary found the men alive.
He spoke to a judge of the Chinese courts on the matter, who thereupon showed him a letter from Li Hung Chang giving explicit instructions that the men must not be executed, as they had only been convicted on the testimony of Christians, consequently the evidence was untrustworthy. Mr. Killie has a copy of this letter. In the meantime the French had proved the same men guilty of incendiarism and other outrages and demanded their execution, whereupon the judge again showed his orders from Li Hung Chang. The French authorities replied that if the men were not executed within eight days they would take the law into their own hands and punish the Chinese officials likewise.

STATUS OF THE CUBANS.

Cockrell Explains Why Islanders Must Accept Platt Amendment.

Washington, April 18.—Senators Proctor, of Vermont, and Cockrell, of Missouri, had a conference with the president regarding the situation in Cuba. The senators have made trips to the island since the adjournment of congress.

"The Cubans," said Senator Cockrell, "apparently do not fully grasp their status. They are not now a government. They have no power to treat diplomatically with the United States. The present constitutional convention was called into being through our agency. It only has power to submit to the United States for approval a plan or constitution for a representative government. If we reject it outright, the existing status continues. They can do nothing. But if the modifications and conditions which we propose are accepted, then they can proceed to organize a representative government.
Until such a government is organized the troops of the United States, in my opinion, cannot be withdrawn. I am firmly convinced that the convention, after it hears the report of the commission which it has sent here will accept the Platt amendment."

Democratic Editors Met.

Harrisburg, April 18.—At the annual meeting of the State Democratic Editorial association the following officers were elected: President, P.

treasurer, W. P. Hastings; executive committee, J. Irvin Steele, Jere Zeamer, P. Grey Meek, D. A. Orr, George

AMERICAN CATHOLICS.

THAT CHURCH FLOURISHING IN FREE COUNTRY.

Ireland Dilates on the Church's Progress—Bigotry Disappears.
Pallium to Keane.

Dubuque, Ia., April 18.—In St.
Raphael's Catholic church Archbishop John J. Keane was invested with the pallium, the insignia of the high position he occupies in the Roman Catholic church.

While the absence of Mgr. Martinelli was marked, it detracted none from the grandeur of the scene, which was far beyond that occasion of Sept. 17, 1893, when Mgr. Satolli, now a member of the Sacred Congregation, Rome, conferred the pallium upon the late Archbishop Hennessey in this same cathedral.

The ceremonies opened with a procession of clergy and attendants, in which the cardinal, archbishops, bishops and priests took part, clad in full vestments of their rank. Passing from the archiepiscopal residence, the procession entered the cathedral and moved up the main aisle to the altar.
Within the sanctuary Cardinal Gibbons ascended the throne on the left, which had been yielded to him by Archbishop Keane, the latter occupying a temporary throne on the right which he had erected for himself. About these two principals were Archbishops Keane, St. Louis; Katzer, Milwaukee; Elder, Cincinnati; Ireland, St. Paul, and in their company were Bishops Spaulding and his coadjutor, O'Reilly, Peoria, Ills.; Els, Marquette, Mich.; Messmer, Greeubay, Wis.; Trobee, St. Cloud, Minn.; O'Gorman, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Tierney, Hartford, Conn.; Cotter, Winona,

Bonacum, Lincoln, Neb.; McCloskey,
Louisville, Ky.; Harkins, Providence,
R. I.; Janssen, Belleville, Ills.; Chatard, Indianapolis, Ind., and Hobart Scranton, Pa. Mgr. Ryan, vicar general of the diocese of Dubuque, and nearly 400 priests.

Archbishop Kane, of St. Louis, in full canonicals, ascended the altar and began the celebration of pontifical high mass. His assistant priest was the Very Rev. Mr. Gunn, Cedar Rapids; deacon, the Very Rev. Mr.
McLaughlin, Clinton; sub-deacon, the Very Rev. Mr. O'Connor, Carroll, and some 20 others. The Rev. Messrs.
Toomey, Darloun, Barry, Fitzpatrick and Carey were masters of ceremonies.

The music was Gounod's "Messe Solemnelle," sung by a choir of 60 persons. At the close of the mass Cardinal Gibbons, with imposing ceremony, conferred the pallium upon Archbishop Keane. The cardinal's assistants were the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Ryan, V. G. Dubuque, and the Rev. Clement Johannes, Dubuque. Following the investiture Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, delivered the sermon of the day. A congratulatory address from the clergy of the diocese was made by the Rev. Dr. Carroll, president of St. Joseph's college, Dubuque, and Archbishop Keane's reply closed the ceremonies at the church.

The subject of the installation speech of Archbishop Ireland was on "The Church in America—Its Yesterday and Its Tomorrow." He said in part:

"Three quarters of a century, a half century ago, anti-Catholic prejudice was dominant in the land, our non-Catholic fellow citizens were not to be blamed; they had not known Catholics as Catholics are, and they treated according to what they believed of them. But today in America the reign of ill-feeling and antimosity has passed away. In America Catholics and non-Catholics differ from one another in creeds and spiritual allegiance; but, as true Americans, they respect one another and accord to one another their civil and social freedom, all working together in peace and harmony for the greatest weal of society and of country.

"In America the Catholic faith was on trial, and so was democracy itself in its relation with religion, and here is the cause of so many attacks made on the American church. Those attacks covertly are attacks on democracy. It would have been most convenient for reactionary theorists to be able to say to Catholics the world over, your church cannot thrive in a democracy, in the full freedom which democracy insures. Thank God, to such theorists, both America and the Catholic church and American democracy have given the saddest disappointment.

"Let us be just to America, and know and proclaim that nowhere, all things duly considered, is the church freer than in America. Is she allowed to live in untrammelled freedom, and to prosper as her forces and the zeal of her sons permit."

THE WATER PROBLEM.

The state health board is trying to help the cities and towns along the Ohio river to solve the water problem. It is no light task, either for the board or for the cities. But the recommendations of the experts will be of value. It is a needed work which they are undertaking. East Liverpool needs more water to wash in and more to put out fires. She is arranging to secure the supply. But water to drink is quite as important. The man who drinks city water now does so at the risk of his health and perhaps of his life. No amount of filtration can assure absolute purity. But it all helps toward that desideratum.

The state board of health will deserve a vote of thanks if it will teach us how to treat the water supply so that to drink it raw will not be dangerous. And while we are awaiting its advice and the result of its chemical examinations, those who are wise will strain the water they drink and then boil it. Chunks of earth and microbes too large to pass through an old-fashioned cullender can be removed with ease and used for street building or fertilizing purposes. The rest of the sediment will settle if you give it time. The bacteria not large enough to walk to a place of safety can be killed by boiling the water. It is a vexatious solution of the problem, but it is the only one that is reasonably safe.

THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR.

The Chinese question, the Philippine problem, the Russo-Japanese controversy and even the predicted strike must soon be relegated to an inconspicuous position. The base ball season has now opened. The great question of the hour will be, "What's the score?" It will interest youths of sixteen and men of sixty. It will be discussed on street corners, in hotels, clubs and public places and in the seclusion of the home. Base ball is the great American game. It is a good one, and good Americans admire it. Properly conducted, it is a healthful, manly sport. Not to take interest in it argues that you are no longer young, either in feeling or in years. The public is waiting and watching. Play ball!

NO LENIENCY FOR THEM.

Revelations at Manila prove that we need a better army, if not a larger one. The man who violates a soldier's oath and robs the government he is sworn to serve is no common felon, and the severest punishment the law permits is no more than he merits. Uncle Sam will act unwisely if he screens any man who has betrayed his trust or disgraced his uniform. The best sentiment of the nation as well as that of the army will uphold the government in making an example of the officers mixed up in the commissary frauds.

The opinion of Judge Hole, as stated by S. R. Dixon, in these columns yesterday, ought to settle the controversy over the powers of the city board of equalization. It exactly coincides with that of Prosecuting Attorney Brookes. Under it any citizen who has been unjustly or unreasonably treated in the decennial appraisal can have his wrongs righted. This is as it should be. Citizens who do not make a stand for their rights will have themselves to blame if they do not get justice.

The great Fitzsimmons has distinguished himself by whipping his wife because she would not kiss him. We thought Fitz was a decent man for a prize fighter. But lives of great men in that line all remind us that nobody can long remain a pugilist and be decent.

The state chemist has ordered samples of East Liverpool water, but not to drink. He would not be so rash as that.

A pretty girl with a mouthful of slang is as repulsive as if she were pock-marked and toothless.

The Pennsylvania legislature seems to be unnecessarily prolonging a useless existence.

Idleness is a crime when work abounds.

The Steubenville U. P. presbytery, which met this week at Waynesburg, O., elected Rev. T. V. Milligan, of Oak Ridge, moderator. Resignations were: Rev. W. W. Morton, from Beech Springs; Rev. Laughbaum, from Madison; Rev. J. R. Jones, from Yellow Creek; commissioners to general assembly, Rev. Kirkbride, Rev. T. V. Milligan, Prof. McElroy, Mr. Smith.

Stated supplies are: Rev. Finley, for Amsterdam, East Springfield and Annapolis, one year; Rev. W. W. Morton, for Center Unity, until next meeting; Rev. George W. McMillan, for Bacon Ridge and Richmond, for one year; Rev. N. K. Crowe, for Harlem, Kilgore and Nebo, for one year.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT.

Speedy Resumption of Work at Union Pottery Probable.

The prospects are very bright for the early resumption of operations at the Union pottery.

F. W. Fowler, one of the principal stockholders, was in the city yesterday looking over the ground. He returned to Pittsburg last evening and will be in East Liverpool again tomorrow. It is likely that a meeting will be held the latter part of the week, and action taken which will determine the time for starting the plant.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Whistler is planning a noteworthy exhibition of his paintings, etchings, lithographs, etc., to be held in Paris before this season ends.

Hamlin Garland, the author, has bought from his father and brother the old Garland homestead in West Salem, Wis., and it is probable he will again make his home there.

Robert Buchanan, the well known English author, has broken down in health, and his return to literary life is now considered impossible. A movement is on foot in England to assist him financially, as his business affairs are in bad condition.

Miss Carol H. Beck of Philadelphia has received from Andrew Carnegie a commission to copy the portrait of William Penn in the collection of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania. The portrait will be presented by Mr. Carnegie to the Penn society of New York.

The sculptor Prince Troubetzkoi, husband of Amelie Rives, is now completing a statue of "Tolstoi on Horseback." The famous writer's ill health during the past few weeks has compelled the sculptor to do much of his work indoors instead of in the open air, as formerly.

And Still She Wept.

Toto was crying. "What's the matter?" asked one of her father's friends. "I've lost my 2 cents!" she wailed. "Well, never mind. Here are 2 cents," said the friend.

Soon Toto was crying harder than ever. "What's the matter now?" she was asked.

"I'm crying because if I hadn't lost my 2 cents I'd had 4 now!" was her reply.—Detroit Free Press.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

Mr. George C. Heisler has sold his interest in the Heisler-Bence Shoe company to John C. Wallace and from now on this store will be known as the Sleepless Shoe firm, a name that the new promoters will defend with their eyes wide open (during business hours). Their eyes will be open to any and all new ideas for the best interests of their patrons. They invite the public of East Liverpool to call and inspect their shoes, promising to give the best obtainable for the price.

County Convention.

The Prohibitionists will meet in county convention in the new Potters' National Bank building Friday night, April 19, for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention, and to nominate a county ticket. By order of the CHAIRMAN. 263-i

STATE LINES.

Kansas still finds it easier to enact new liquor laws than to enforce those it already has.—Philadelphia Ledger.

If Texas can't keep the eyes of the world riveted on her in one way, she does it in another. It's either oil wells, cyclones or chases after outlaws.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Surprise is expressed in South Dakota over the discovery of a farmer who is worth half a million, but with the wonderful resources of the soil of that state the marvel is there are not more like him.—Minneapolis Tribune.

INSECT LIFE.

The largest American fly is a little over half an inch in length.

In the pupa state the Hessian fly can scarcely be distinguished from a flaxseed.

The worker wasps, like the worker bees, are smaller than the queens or males.

Butterflies are said to be very sleepy headed. Twilight sends them to bed, and they are still drowsy at sunrise.

ELECTRIC SPARKS.

Free electricity travels at the same rate as light, 186,000 miles a second. Through wire electricity moves at only 16,000 miles a second.

It has been discovered that the best way to break a horse from kicking is to give him an electric shock. If properly administered, it does not injure the animal, and it supersedes the brutal whipping.

POWDER AND BALL.

One pattern of small arm will now be used by American fighting men ashore and afloat, and the army rifle is fast being placed aboard the warships.

The British war office has declined to form a volunteer corps of motor vehicle operators. It, however, expressed a willingness to accept the services of individual automobilists in case of an emergency.

THE WATER PROBLEM.

The state health board is trying to help the cities and towns along the Ohio river to solve the water problem. It is no light task, either for the board or for the cities. But the recommendations of the experts will be of value. It is a needed work which they are undertaking. East Liverpool needs more water to wash in and more to put out fires. She is arranging to secure the supply. But water to drink is quite as important. The man who drinks city water now does so at the risk of his health and perhaps of his life. No amount of filtration can assure absolute purity. But it all helps toward that desideratum.

The state board of health will deserve a vote of thanks if it will teach us how to treat the water supply so that to drink it raw will not be dangerous. And while we are awaiting its advice and the result of its chemical examinations, those who are wise will strain the water they drink and then boil it. Chunks of earth and microbes too large to pass through an old-fashioned cullender can be removed with ease and used for street building or fertilizing purposes. The rest of the sediment will settle if you give it time. The bacteria not large enough to walk to a place of safety can be killed by boiling the water. It is a vexatious solution of the problem, but it is the only one that is reasonably safe.

THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR.

The Chinese question, the Philippine problem, the Russo-Japanese controversy and even the predicted strike must soon be relegated to an inconspicuous position. The base ball season has now opened. The great question of the hour will be, "What's the score?" It will interest youths of sixteen and men of sixty. It will be discussed on street corners, in hotels, clubs and public places and in the seclusion of the home. Base ball is the great American game. It is a good one, and good Americans admire it. Properly conducted, it is a healthful, mahly sport. Not to take interest in it argues that you are no longer young, either in feeling or in years. The public is waiting and watching. Play ball!

NO LENIENCY FOR THEM.

Revelations at Manila prove that we need a better army, if not a larger one. The man who violates a soldier's oath and robs the government he is sworn to serve is no common felon, and the severest punishment the law permits is no more than he merits. Uncle Sam will act unwisely if he screens any man who has betrayed his trust or disgraced his uniform. The best sentiment of the nation as well as that of the army will uphold the government in making an example of the officers mixed up in the commissary frauds.

The opinion of Judge Hole, as stated by S. R. Dixon, in these columns yesterday, ought to settle the controversy over the powers of the city board of equalization. It exactly coincides with that of Prosecuting Attorney Brookes. Under it any citizen who has been unjustly or unreasonably treated in the decennial reappraisal can have his wrongs righted. This is as it should be. Citizens who do not make a stand for their rights will have themselves to blame if they do not get justice.

The great Fitzsimmons has distinguished himself by whipping his wife, because she would not kiss him. We thought Fitz was a decent man for a prize fighter. But lives of great men in that line all remind us that nobody can long remain a pugilist and be decent.

The state chemist has ordered samples of East Liverpool water, but not to drink. He would not be so rash as that.

A pretty girl with a mouthful of slang is as repulsive as if she were pock-marked and toothless.

The Pennsylvania legislature seems to be unnecessarily prolonging a useless existence.

Idleness is a crime when work abounds.

Audience Well Pleased.

"The Village Postmaster," as played at the Grand last night, is one of the most attractive rural dramas ever given in this city. Archie Boyd rendered the leading role in that quaint, yet pathetic style that made him so popular with theater-goers in this city on two previous occasions when he appeared in "The Old Homestead" and "Shore Acres." The work of the entire cast was excellent and the play was interesting and fascinating from start to finish. There was a well-filled house.

GENTLEMAN IN JAIL.

ENGLISHMAN AT WARREN COMPLAINS OF TREATMENT.

Gets the Consul to Take Up His Case. Unlawful Imprisonment Alleged.

Warren, O., April 18.—On the night of February 18, a window of a school house in Farmington township was forced open and two tourists spent the night there. When one of the men left the building, he took with him a pair of shoes and other articles belonging to the teacher, Edward Hitchcock. Hitchcock taught no school next day, but turned detective and traced the men to Warren, where they were arrested. One of them was wearing the shoes. Both were held to common pleas court by Mayor Ward in the sum of $500, and they have since been in the Warren jail, awaiting trial next month.

The men gave their names as Thomas Bates and William Dalrymple. The latter recently wrote to the British consul, Hon. Wilford Powell, at Philadelphia, asking his assistance in securing his release. In his letter to the consul Dalrymple claimed to be a British subject. He said he was born in Chigwell, Essex, where he received an excellent education. He claims that his father served in the Ninety-fifth Foot for 23 years, and died in the civil service of the crown at Chatham dockyard.

He told the consul the only evidence against him was that he was in the company of a man who had stolen property; that the mayor of Warren had refused him a proper hearing, and that he had been unlawfully imprisoned.

The British consul had taken the matter up with Prosecuting Attorney E. E. Roberts, asking for information in the case, and claiming Dalrymple as a British subject, desires his release.

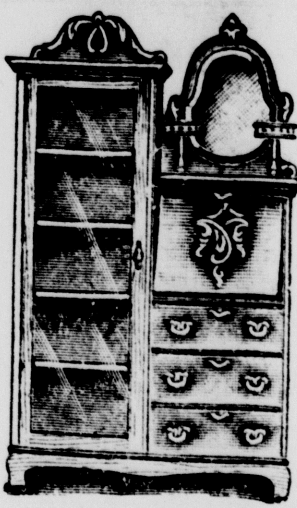

Dalrymple has also written a letter to the prosecutor. His writing is like copper-plate. He offers to make known some information that would clear up a number of mysterious robberies in Trumbull county in the past years, providing his release is forthcoming. In conversation the prisoner shows a choice of language not usually found among criminals.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

To restore bronzes wipe perfectly clean and then rub with sweet oil and polish till dry.

A small box of unslacked lime kept in the cellar purifies the air and keeps it dry. The quantity should not be so great that the cellar smells of it.

Warm suds, small shot and some well soaked soft paper are usually all that is required for cleaning out glass bottles. But when there are stains that these agents will not remove a small quantity of muriatic acid may be added to the water in which they are washed. This should be left in the bottle for a day or two; then drain, rinse thoroughly and polish.

POTTERS' LEAGUE.

MEETING CALLED TO CONSIDER QUESTION OF CONTINUING.

Numerous Base Ball Teams Organizing—A First-Class One Is Demanded.

President Chal Stewart, of the Old Potters' League, has called a meeting of that association for Friday evening of this week, at which time a report will be made by M. P. McCullough, treasurer of the league.

The advisability of continuing the organization will be discussed, but it is hardly likely this course will be pursued, as the league was not a success last year in point of attendance or financially.

This, however, will not prevent an agitation being started for a first-class team for this city. As has been stated on more than a dozen occasions, there is an abundance of good material in East Liverpool, and it needs only a little encouragement to bring it to the front.

The Phoenix team has already been organized and an active season is anticipated by the members. They have arranged games with Bethany college and Kiskiminetas.

The Hill Tops will be stronger than ever this season and have booked several games to be played within the next two weeks.

It is said that no less than three base ball teams have been organized in the West End.

A movement has been started to form a ball club among the members of the Y. M. C. A.

The Jiggermen Won.

The ball game between the pressers and jiggermen of the Vodyre pottery played yesterday afternoon at Deidrick's hill was won by the jiggermen. The score was 18 to 11.

River Down to 13 Feet.

As a Food For the Skin.

To Make It Smooth, Healthy and Beautiful, Dr. Chase's Ointment is Hailed by Thousands of Fair Women.

Every woman, no matter how beautiful her skin, finds need at times of some preparation to overcome the redness and roughness, and to cure the pimples, blackheads and skin irritations.

Powders may cover up the disfiguring eruptions, but can never cure them, and are positively injurious because they clog up the pores of the skin. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a food for the skin. It is readily absorbed, and thoroughly cures each and every skin disease, making the skin smooth, soft and clear.

No woman's toilet is complete without Dr. Chase's Ointment, for besides being the most perfect skin beautifier obtainable it can be used in a score of different ways. It absolutely cures eczema, salt rheum and the itching to which women are especially subject.

When the feet are sore and chafed with walking an application of Dr. Chase's Ointment takes out the smarting and allays the inflammation in a surprisingly short time. Then for burns, scalds and every sort of chafing, irritation or eruption of the skin Dr. Chase's Ointment affords a safe and certain cure. It has come to be indispensable in scores of thousands of homes in the United States; 50 cent a box, at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

maining $46,000.

During the year the local Y. M. C. A.

eral sources of revenue and is now free of debt.

Labor Differences Settled.

Athens, O., April 18.—The differences between the miners and operators of the Hocking alley, growing out of the docking system, were amicably adjusted. The miners conceded a reduction of 50 pounds in the minimum amount of dirt allowed to each car of coal run from the mines. The former minimum was 160 pounds. No other changes in the system were made.

A Strike Settled.

Massillon, O., April 18.—The strike of the coal hoisting engineers in the Massillon district, which had kept about 4,000 miners idle for two weeks, was settled, the engineers waiving their demand for an eight-hour work day and receiving an advance of 15 cents per day in wages. Work will be resumed Thursday in all the mines.

Options Secured on Laundries.

Bearer of Dispatches From Noriel to Malvar Captured.

Manila, April 18.—About 50 insurgent riflemen attacked the town of Bay, on Bay lake, in Laguna province, southeast of Manila. The insurgents were quickly routed.

Lieutenant William S. Nipes, of the Thirty-second volunteer infantry, captured a bearer of dispatches from the insurgent General Noriel to General Malvar. Noriel directed Malvar not to surrender, saying he would send him 2,000 recruits, money and ammunition when Aguinaldo was released.
Noriel succeeded Trias in Southern Luzon.

At a meeting of clergymen held in Manila, at which Bishop Warren presided, protests were made against the opening of cock pits in Manila. The business men of the city have also objected on the same lines.

Same Provisions as For Soldiers' Remains From Philippines.

Washington, April 18.—The secretary of war notified General MacArthur, commanding the troops in the Philippines, that congress had made the same provisions for sending home the remains of civilian employees of the government who may die in the Philippines as heretofore had applied only to officers and men of the army.

General MacArthur is therefore instructed to cable the names of all civilian employees who die in the Philippines to their nearest relatives and to provide for the transportation of their remains to the United States.

Exclusion of American Meat.

Washington, April 18.—Ambassador Choate had not been heard from yesterday, as far as made public, in reply to the inquiry of the state department relative to the action taken by the British authorities upon the exclusion of certain kinds of American meat. But, since the inquiry was made, the urgency of the matter appears to be somewhat relieved by explanations given in press cables and emanating from the official authorities in London. These show that the exclusion was in no sense general, but was confined to articles used by the British war office.

FRIENDLY TO LABOR

Assertion of W. P. Hamilton Concerning the Great Morgan Firm.

AMALGAMATED DID NOT ACT

Advisory Committee Adjourned Until Today—Col. French, of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, Trying to Arrange the Differences.

Pittsburg, April 18.—The advisory board of the Amalgamated association, which met to consider the strike at McKeesport and the request of President Shaffer to declare as a last resort a general strike in all the plants of the United States Steel corporation, adjourned without taking action, as far as made public, to meet again today.

The entire matter was held over until today, pending the arrival of two members of the board who are expected this morning. Meantime, yesterday's developments in the McKeesport trouble showed the national officials a ray of hope, and the members of the board believed last night that there was a chance of a settlement today. President T. J. Shaffer himself said the prospects were much brighter than they had been in the forenoon.

Colonel G. Watson French, of Youngstown, O., vice president of the Republic Iron and Steel company, which is independent of the Morgan combine, is the man who may bring the opposing parties together. He spent yesterday in the city and was at the meeting of the board during the afternoon. After hearing the men's side of the difficulty Colonel French promised to use every influence he could bring to bear on his friends in the American Sheet Steel company to secure a settlement. Last night Colonel French was still in the city, and members of the advisory board confidently expected another proposition today from the American Sheet Steel company.

If the board does not hear from the company today President Shaffer will ask for the passage of a resolution authorizing him to call out the employees of the Sheet Steel company, or of the entire Morgan combine, at his discretion.

John Jarrett, representing the company, addressed the committee, detailing the company's side of the dispute and urging that the contemplated strike order be delayed at least until after the coming national convention in Milwaukee in May.

New York, April 18.—William P. Hamilton, of J. P. Morgan & Co., when asked concerning the strike of the employees of the American Sheet Steel company at McKeesport, made the following statement:

"I see that one of the labor leaders has spoken of the danger of a spread of the strike. I assume that it is his duty to speak in this manner.

"But as far as this firm is concerned, its attitude toward labor is well known. We are friendly, and there is no possibility of a clash."

TRAGEDY AND WEDDING.

Sister of Bride Killed Going to the Church.

Pittsburg, April 18.—St. James' church, on Main street, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Lizzie Mitchell, of No. 112 Atwood street, thirty-sixth ward, to Thomas Moe, a well-known young man of the West End.

Miss Rosie Mitchell, sister of the bride, was late, and to hasten to the church took a short cut and turned down Mill street. This was a few minutes before 9 o'clock. Mill street is very steep, and Miss Mitchell tripped and fell. She was unconscious when picked up and was carried into the home of Mrs. O'Dowd, nearby.

Help was immediately summoned and Drs. Miller and Hoffman arrived. They at once pronounced the young woman dead from a broken neck, which was sustained by the fall. The body was then taken home, but the bride party had driven to the train without being notified of the tragic happening. They were intercepted, however, and postponed their journey.

Miss Mitchell was 23 years old.

CREASY CHOSEN.

Elected Chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Committee. Washburn Was Denounced.

Harrisburg, April 18.—Representative William T. Creasy, of Columbia county, was unanimously elected state chairman of the Democracy of Pennsylvania by the Democratic state committee at its annual meeting held here. Mr. Creasy's name was the only one presented to the meeting.

The committee got into a tangle over a resolution condemning Senator O. R. Washburn, of Crawford county, for his "hypocrisy, treachery and infidelity" in joining the ranks of the Republican party, and another resolution reproaching certain senators and representatives for having voted with the Quay Republicans on several measures passed by the legislature. The resolutions were finally adopted in the original form they were presented.

Washburn's name was the only one specifically mentioned.

The threatened contest over the control of the organization in Philadelphia was launched in the shape of a resolution appointing a committee to reorganize the party in that city. On a vive voce vote it was defeated. A division was called for, which was quickly followed by a motion to adjourn, and the motion was declared carried by Chairman Creasy, thus cutting off further action on the matter.

PENNSY REACHING OUT.

Said to Have Secured Large Blocks of Santa Fe.

New York, April 18.—The Mail and Express published the following yesterday afternoon:

"There is excellent authority for the statement that prominent men representing the Pennsylvania railroad have recently bought large blocks of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe stock, and before long the former will be invited to name several directors of the latter company. These purchases are believed to aggregate more than 200,000 shares, largely of preferred.

"There are several reasons why the Pennsylvania should make such a move. For a long time it has had close traffic relations with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, but now that the company is about to pass into the control of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies the Pennsylvania cannot be so sure about the conservation of its interests on trans-continental traffic.

"It has been the policy of the Pennsylvania not to extend beyond Chicago and St. Louis. From what can be learned there will be no physical connection between that company and the Atchison by lease or otherwise."

STRIKING THE RIGHT SPOT.

That's the Great Secret of East Liverpool Praise Given to Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

There come times to every life when a lack of strength—failing appetite—poor circulation—weak heart action and many other symptoms may break in. They are not diseases—the person may not be laid up until they have existed a long time. The influence of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is to create nerve force, and immediately people find themselves getting well because nerve force controls every vital organ of the body.

Mr. W. S. Gaston, of No. 264 Fifth street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Owing to a functional or nervous trouble and an impaired digestion my heart action was weak and irregular. The condition was far from pleasant and I was induced to get a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills at Larkins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets. I am pleased that I did so, as the medicine has so strengthened the nervous system and digestion that the heart action is regular and strong and feel otherwise well and generally pleased with the result."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medical company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

SOUTH CAROLINA CONVICTS BUILDING ROADS.

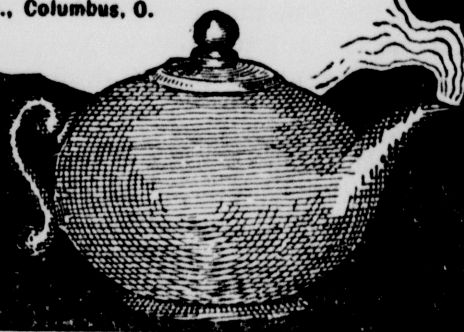

The citizens of South Carolina have been aroused by the discovery that unscrupulous contractors have so taken advantage of the convict labor system of the state as to establish what almost amounts to a return to slavery. Suits have been brought against several offending contractors, and the state officials are determined to bring them to justice. It is probable that the practice of hiring out prisoners to the operators of convict camps will be radically changed, if not abolished. The scene here given shows a group of convicts, guarded by men with rifles, at work on the highway.

TROUBLE WITH THE ACCOUNTS.

Capt. Read Sends Cable Regarding the Muddle in Manila.

Pittsburg, April 18.—Charles H. Read, of No. 916 Maryland avenue, East End, received a cablegram from his son, Captain James C. Read, of the United States army at Manila who was arrested, charged with irregularity in his accounts with the commissary department. Captain Read stated that he had had trouble in straightening the accounts of some of his clerks.

Committee to Inspect Missions.

Boston, April 18.—The prudential committee of the American board decided to send a deputation to India and Ceylon to inspect mission work there. The Rev. Dr. J. E. Loba, of Evanston, Ills., and William F. Whittemore, of Boston, have been appointed on this work, together with Secretary Barton, in charge of these missions. The party will sail from Boston the last week in April and will spend not less than five months within the India and Ceylon missions, in direct contact with the work and the workers.

Shinn Charged With Murder.

Trenton, N. J., April 18.—The coroner's jury appeared to inquire into the cause of the death of Thomas F. Applegate, the farmer, whose body was found in his barn on Sunday morning, March 10, rendered a verdict declaring the jury's belief that Applegate came to his death by violence and that from threats made by Samuel Shinn against Applegate that he came to his death at the hands of Shinn. Shinn is in jail.

BRINGING MARTINELLI'S HAT.

Papal Delegate Cabled to Take a Fast Steamer.

Washington, April 18.—The officials of the papal delegation here have been rather apprehensive lest the cardinal's red hat, to be conferred on Archbishop Martinelli, would not arrive in time for the ceremony prior to the departure of Cardinal Gibbons for Rome. It seemed that the papal delegate who is bringing the hat to this country decided, probably through motives of economy, to take one of the slow steamers, which would have been 18 days on the Atlantic.

At this rate, the ceremony could not have taken place at the appointed time. In order to expedite affairs a cablegram was sent urging him to take one of the fastest steamers, and this is likely to bring him here in time for carrying out the program already determined upon.

To Spend Some Time at Canton.

Washington, April 18.—President McKinley was not contemplating purchasing a summer home in West Washington, in which to spend the summer, as reported. After the New England trip, which will follow on the heels of the trip to the Pacific coast, the president and Mrs. McKinley will go to Canton and the major portion of the heated season will be spent quietly at home there.

FRIENDLY TO LABOR

Assertion of W. P. Hamilton Concerning the Great Morgan Firm.

AMALGAMATED DID NOT ACT

Advisory Committee Adjourned Until Today—Col. French, of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, Trying to Arrange the Differences.

Pittsburg, April 18.—The advisory board of the Amalgamated association, which met to consider the strike at McKeesport and the request of President Shaffer to declare as a last resort a general strike in all the plants of the United States Steel corporation, adjourned without taking action, as far as made public, to meet again today.

The entire matter was held over until today, pending the arrival of two members of the board who are expected this morning. Meantime, yesterday's developments in the McKeesport trouble showed the national officials a ray of hope, and the members of the board believed last night that there was a chance of a settlement today. President T. J. Shaffer himself said the prospects were much brighter than they had been in the forenoon.

Colonel G. Watson French, of Youngstown, O., vice president of the Republic Iron and Steel company, which is independent of the Morgan combine, is the man who may bring the opposing parties together. He spent yesterday in the city and was at the meeting of the board during the afternoon. After hearing the men's side of the difficulty Colonel French promised to use every influence he could bring to bear on his friends in the American Sheet Steel company to secure a settlement. Last night Colonel French was still in the city, and members of the advisory board confidently expected another proposition today from the American Sheet Steel company.

If the board does not hear from the company today President Shaffer will ask for the passage of a resolution authorizing him to call out the employees of the Sheet Steel company, or of the entire Morgan combine, at his discretion.

John Jarrett, representing the company, addressed the committee, detailing the company's side of the dispute and urging that the contemplated strike order be delayed at least until after the coming national convention in Milwaukee in May.

New York, April 18.—William P. Hamilton, of J. P. Morgan & Co., when asked concerning the strike of the employees of the American Sheet Steel company at McKeesport, made the following statement:

"I see that one of the labor leaders has spoken of the danger of a spread of the strike. I assume that it is his duty to speak in this manner.

"But as far as this firm is concerned, its attitude toward labor is well known. We are friendly, and there is no possibility of a clash."

TRAGEDY AND WEDDING.

Sister of Bride Killed Going to the Church.

Pittsburg, April 18.—St. James' church, on Main street, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Lizzie Mitchell, of No. 112 Atwood street, Thirty-sixth ward, to Thomas Mee, a well-known young man of the West End.

Miss Rosie Mitchell, sister of the bride, was late, and to hasten to the church took a short cut and turned down Mill street. This was a few minutes before 9 o'clock. Mill street is very steep and Miss Mitchell tripped and fell. She was unconscious when picked up and was carried into the home of Mrs. O'Dowd, nearby.

Help was immediately summoned and Drs. Miller and Hoffman arrived. They at once pronounced the young woman dead from a broken neck, which was sustained by the fall. The body was then taken home, but the bridal party had driven to the train without being notified of the tragic happening. They were intercepted, however, and postponed their journey.

Miss Mitchell was 23 years old.

CREASY CHOSEN.

Elected Chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Committee. Washburn Was Denounced.

Harrisburg, April 18.—Representative William T. Creasy, of Columbia county, was unanimously elected state chairman of the Democracy of Pennsylvania by the Democratic state committee at its annual meeting held here. Mr. Creasy's name was the only one presented to the meeting.

The committee got into a tangle over a resolution condemning Senator O. R. Washburn, of Crawford county, for his "hypocrisy, treachery and infidelity" in joining the ranks of the Republican party, and another resolution reproaching certain senators and representatives for having voted with the Quay Republicans on several measures passed by the legislature. The resolutions were finally adopted in the original form they were presented.

Washburn's name was the only one specifically mentioned.

The threatened contest over the control of the organization in Philadelphia was launched in the shape of a resolution appointing a committee to reorganize the party in that city. On a vive voce vote it was defeated. A division was called for, which was quickly followed by a motion to adjourn, and the motion was declared carried by Chairman Creasy, thus cutting off further action on the matter.

PENNSY REACHING OUT.

Said to Have Secured Large Blocks of Santa Fe.

New York, April 18.—The Mail and Express published the following yesterday afternoon:

"There is excellent authority for the statement that prominent men representing the Pennsylvania railroad have recently bought large blocks of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe stock, and before long the former will be invited to name several directors of the latter company. These purchases are believed to aggregate more than 200,000 shares, largely of preferred.

"There are several reasons why the Pennsylvania should make such a move. For a long time it has had close traffic relations with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, but now that the company is about to pass into the control of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies the Pennsylvania cannot be so sure about the conservation of its interests on trans-continental traffic.

"It has been the policy of the Pennsylvania not to extend beyond Chicago and St. Louis. From what can be learned there will be no physical connection between that company and the Atchison by lease or otherwise."

SOUTH CAROLINA CONVICTS BUILDING ROADS.

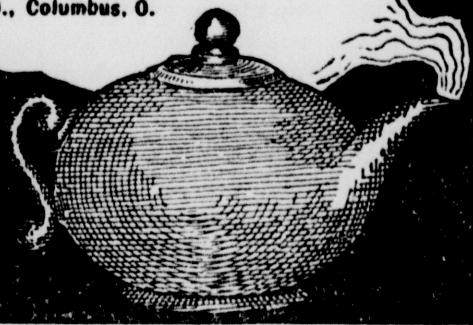

The citizens of South Carolina have been aroused by the discovery that unscrupulous contractors have so taken advantage of the convict labor system of the state as to establish what amounts to a return to slavery. Suits have been brought against several offending contractors, and the state officials are determined to bring them to justice. It is probable that the practice of hiring out prisoners to the operators of convict camps will be radically changed, if not abolished. The scene here given shows a group of convicts, guarded by men with rifles, at work on the highway.

Capt. Read Sends Cable Regarding the Muddle in Manila.

Pittsburg, April 18.—Charles H. Read, of No. 916 Maryland avenue, East End, received a cablegram from his son, Captain James C. Captain Read stated that he had had trouble in straightening the accounts of some of his clerks.

Boston, April 18.—The prudential committee of the American board decided to send a deputation to India and Ceylon to inspect mission work there. The Rev. Dr. J. E. Loba, of Evanston, Ill., and William F. Whittemore, of Boston, have been appointed on this work, together with Secretary Barton, in charge of these missions. The party will sail from Boston the last week in April and will spend not less than five months with the India and Ceylon missions, in direct contact with the work and the workers.

Shinn Charged With Murder.

Trenton, N. J., April 18.—The coroner's jury appeared to inquire into the cause of the death of Thomas F. Applegate, the farmer, whose body was found in his barn on Sunday morning, March 10, rendered a verdict declaring the jury's belief that Applegate came to his death by violence and that from threats made by Samuel Shinn against Applegate that he came to his death at the hands of Shinn. Shinn is in jail.

BRINGING MARTINELLI'S HAT.

Papal Delegate Cabled to Take a Fast Steamer.

Washington, April 18.—The officials of the papal delegation here have been rather apprehensive lest the cardinal's red hat, to be conferred on Archbishop Martinelli, would not arrive in time for the ceremony prior to the departure of Cardinal Gibbons for Rome. It seemed that the papal delegate who is bringing the hat to this country decided, probably through motives of economy, to take one of the slow steamers, which would have been 18 days on the Atlantic.

At this rate, the ceremony could not have taken place at the appointed time. In order to expedite affairs a cablegram was sent urging him to take one of the fastest steamers, and this is likely to bring him here in time for carrying out the program already determined upon.

Hand Badly Wounded—John Grafton, jugglerman at the Smith-McNicol pottery, met with an accident yesterday that will necessitate his laying off for some time. He was engaged in removing the ring from the jugglerhead while it was in motion. The ring was so tight that it required some force to loosen it. Mr. Grafton gave the thing a jerk and it gave away so quickly that his right hand came in contact with the sharp tool with such force as to inflict a nasty cut between the fingers of his right hand. The wound was very deep and caused considerable pain. Mr. Grafton hastened to the office of Dr. Parke, who stopped the flow of blood and dressed the wound.

A FREE AGENCY

TO SECURE EMPLOYMENT FOR NEEDY WEST VIRGINIANS.

Established By the State in Charge of the Bureau of Labor.

Wheeling, April 18.—State Commissioner of Labor I. V. Barton talks interestingly of the Free Public Employment office and other matters pertaining to the bureau of labor, and to a representative of the Register yesterday he said:

"The Free Public Employment office is now established, with the reorganization of the bureau of labor. Both of these institutions will have headquarters in Wheeling for the present. However, the employment office will always remain in this city from the fact that Wheeling is the manufacturing and labor employment center of the state. This department is one of the new features of the bureau of labor, and, while it is an experiment, it is believed by the commissioner that its importance will be so great to the general public that there will be a necessity for it to become one of the permanent institutions of the state.

"For the present, and for the sake of economy, the employment office has been placed in charge of the bureau of labor, and the commissioner will carry on a live, up-to-date employment office, without charge to those who may apply for employment, help or other information. The act creating the employment office embraces all branches of industry, agricultural and domestic help included.

"The bureau of labor is now purely a labor institution. For the first time within its history, it has been entirely eliminated from political and other influence. Too much cannot be said of the fairness and wisdom of Governor White; nor, can too much credit be given him for the willing part he has taken in bringing about this desired change."

The Irish Hedge School.

The educational structure for which, taking advantage of the toleration of government, the hedge schoolmaster abandoned his al fresco establishment, was a very humble one of its kind. The peasantry, animated by the strong Irish love of learning, built it for him, just as in modern days they assemble and build huts for evicted tenants.

It was not a very formidable undertaking. A deep, dry ditch or trench by the roadside was usually selected for the site. At the side of the trench an excavation of the requisite area was dug, so that the clay bank formed three sides of the inclosure. This saved the trouble of building walls. Then the fourth side, or front side wall, with a door and two windows, was built of green sods laid in courses, while similar sods raised the back to the required height and pointed the gable ends.

Young trees and wattles cut from the nearest wood and bound together with straw ropes and withes formed the roof timbers. Over these were spread brambles, then came a layer of "scraws," or slabs of healthy bog surface, and over all a thatching of rushes. The earthen floor was pared to an approach to a level, the rubbish cleared away, and a pathway made to the public road. There was your hedge schoolhouse, ready for business.—Donahoe's Magazine.

It Killed the Bear.

A man who had experience in Alaska was listening to a group of citizens discussing the weather and broke in on the talk thus:

"Pshaw, you fellows don't know what changeable weather is. You think it's always cold in Alaska, do you? Well, just let me tell you a little personal experience of mine. One day I went hunting with a party of miners. The weather was quite warm when we started, and I perspired freely. Suddenly it turned bitterly cold, and large icicles formed on my whiskers (I had grown a full beard). Crossing a small canyon, I came face to face with a big, ugly looking bear. I had nothing but powder in my gun, and the man with the cartridges was away behind me, so as a desperate resort I rammed the icicles from my beard into the gun and blazed away."

"And what happened?" said one of the crowd eagerly.

"Why, I struck him squarely in the head and killed him."

"Killed him? Impossible!" chorused the crowd.

"But it did, I tell you. The temperature suddenly turned warm again, melting the icicles, and the bear died from water on the brain."—Detroit Free Press.

No military parade or drill except in case of war, riot, invasion or insurrection is lawful on election day in New York.

Chinese Pulse Feeling.

The Chinese physicians, it is well known, have long had the credit of paying very particular attention to the pulse. They even pretend to derive a much more minute and accurate knowledge of the state of the sick from that source than European practitioners lay any claim to.

The patient is directed to be laid in bed, with his arm resting on a small cushion. The physician must be seated, and both parties are enjoined to remain calm, silent and collected. The fingers are next to be applied in due succession, one after another, in order to judge of the compressibility of the artery.

The Chinese do not infer solely from the rapidity of the pulsations. Their mode is to compare the number of pulsations of the artery with the intervals of the respiration of the patient. The number of pulsations of a man in moderate health they consider in relation to the time of a natural inspiration and expiration. Four beats of the pulse during this period they consider as indicating perfect health. If it exceeds five pulsations, it is considered as too quick; if under that number, as too slow respecting good health. It is required to reckon 50 pulsations in order to form a correct indication. Their chief divisions of the pulse are four, the superficial, the profound, the quick and the slow. These they consider as having relation to the four temperaments, the choleric, the sanguine, the phlegmatic and the melancholy.—Health.

A Snake That Crows.

There exists in Venezuela a species of snake of an exceedingly venomous and crafty character. This snake utters a cry that is the almost exact replica of a cock crow. The unwary traveler when walking through the bush will be astonished to hear near at hand this extraordinary crowing. He proceeds toward the spot, when the snake darts out and stings the unfortunate man with its terrible forked tongue. If not taken promptly in hand, the sting will in nine cases out of ten turn out to be fatal.

The black inhabitants of Venezuela are, like all other dark races, very superstitious. And as regards the rattlesnake they have a curious belief. They affirm that if a rattlesnake is captured and the bones in its tail which form the rattle removed the snake will never rest until it has sought out the man that committed the theft and exacted vengeance for the robbery.

They cite instances of men who have taken the rattles and gone far journeys only to be followed by the infuriated snake and killed. Whether there is any truth in this is a matter of conjecture. If half the tales that are told have any truth in them, it would seem superfluous to gainsay the superstition.

Our Old Shipplasters.

An officer of the treasury department estimates that more than $15,000,000 worth of the old fashioned fractional paper currency is still outstanding, and though some of it has doubtless been destroyed the bulk of it is held by collectors and private individuals. Every now and then some old person dies, and the heirs, finding a quantity of the "shipplasters" in a disused pocketbook or some other hiding place, send them to Washington to be redeemed. Occasionally, too, banks forward quite a lot of the notes in unbroken sheets, just as they got them many years ago. At first these sheets had to be cut apart with scissors, but afterward they were perforated like postage stamps so as to be torn apart. Not long ago the treasury received a handkerchief full of this currency of the first issue, each note being signed by Treasurer Spinner with his own hand. About $3,000 worth of this fractional paper comes in for redemption each year, and some of the best of it is saved out by the department to be given away in response to applications from collectors.

One Quite Enough.

"I don't see how any sane man can want more than one wife," he said as he finished reading an article on Turkey.

"Yes; one is quite enough, isn't it, dear?" she returned. "The human heart is not large enough for more than one, and then polygamy always seems to me so cheapen women too."

"I wasn't thinking of that," he answered. "What bothers me is how any man can go to work deliberately to accumulate troubles—to make a collection, as you might say."—Chicago Post.

When a woman who asked Philip of Macedon to do her justice was scrubbed by the petulant monarch, she exclaimed, "Philip, I shall appeal against this judgment."

ACCUSED THE POLICE.

Member of Committee of 15 Said They Gave Gamblers Tip—Pool Rooms Raided.

New York, April 18.—The committee of fifteen raided seven alleged pool rooms. The raids were made on warrants issued by Justice Jerome and upon evidence obtained by the staff of detectives working for the committee under the direction of Superintendent John McCullough. The raids in each case were personally conducted by individual members of the committee, assisted by their own detectives and policemen of the regular force from the precinct in which the raid was made.

In only one place did the raiders fail to make any arrests, and C. C. Brewster, of the committee, openly says the inmates of the place received a tip from the police that the place was about to be raided.

A feature of the raiding was the effort by at least two of the police officials to prove that the places raided were not pool rooms, but orderly and well conducted clubs.

One on Senator Clark.

In the administration of President Harrison Senator Clark of Wyoming, then a practicing lawyer in the territory, as it was in those days, was appointed a judge of the territorial court. He was not certain about accepting the position, and he went over to have a talk with Judge Corn, the Democratic incumbent.

"Hello, Clark," said the judge. "Have you come over to be sworn in?"

"No," said Clark. "I have not yet made up my mind to take the place."

"Oh, take it by all manner of means," said Judge Corn. "It is a pleasant job, and I think you will like it."

"But," said Clark, "I have a good many private matters to attend to, and I cannot accept for some time yet anyway. If I conclude to take the place, I will let you know."

"All right," said Judge Corn. "Come over and I will swear you in, but," he added, with a laugh, "while I can swear you in, all creation cannot qualify you."

Leaping For the Villain's Neck—A Very Sensitive Animal.

Four legged animals in drama are of course a very common sight today. Although they are often of far more importance than the mere super, they have an affinity to that class, for theirs is no speaking part, unless one counts the bark of a dog as such.

A little time ago the writer met an actor who was taking the part of a villain in a play wherein a big mastiff seizes him at the back of the neck just as he (the villain) was about to murder the heroine. "Nasty part, that of yours. How do you manage to escape mighty being bitten by that big brute of a dog?" "Not a nice part, it is true," he answered, "but the dog is well trained. However, within a few seconds the man returned, quickly closing the door to exclude his partner, who clamored to get in. "I'll take it," he said in a hurried whisper. "Where's the contract? A FREE AGENCY

TO SECURE EMPLOYMENT FOR NEEDY WEST VIRGINIANS.

Established By the State in Charge of the Bureau of Labor.

Wheeling, April 18.—State Commissioner of Labor I. V. Barton talks interestingly of the Free Public Employment office and other matters pertaining to the bureau of labor, and to a representative of the Register yesterday he said:

"The Free Public Employment office is now established, with the reorganization of the bureau of labor. Both of these institutions will have headquarters in Wheeling for the present. However, the employment office will always remain in this city from the fact that Wheeling is the manufacturing and labor employment center of the state. This department is one of the new features of the bureau of labor, and, while it is an experiment, it is believed by the commissioner that its importance will be so great to the general public that there will be a necessity for it to become one of the permanent institutions of the state.

"For the present, and for the sake of economy, the employment office has been placed in charge of the bureau of labor, and the commissioner will carry on a live, up-to-date employment office, without charge to those who may apply for employment, help or other information. The act creating the employment office embraces all branches of industry, agricultural and domestic help included.

"The bureau of labor is now purely a labor institution. For the first time within its history, it has been entirely eliminated from political and other influence. Too much cannot be said of the fairness and wisdom of Governor White; nor, can too much credit be given him for the willing part he has taken in bringing about this desired change."

The Irish Hedge School.

The educational structure for which, taking advantage of the toleration of government, the hedge schoolmaster abandoned his al fresco establishment, was a very humble one of its kind. The peasantry, animated by the strong Irish love of learning, built it for him, just as in modern days they assemble and build huts for evicted tenants.

It was not a very formidable undertaking. A deep, dry ditch or trench by the roadside was usually selected for the site. At the side of the trench an excavation of the requisite area was dug, so that the clay bank formed three sides of the inclosure. This saved the trouble of building walls. Then the fourth side, or front side wall, with a door and two windows, was built of green sods laid in courses, while similar sods raised the back to the required height and pointed the gable ends.

Young trees and wattles cut from the nearest wood and bound together with straw ropes and withes formed the roof timbers. Over these were spread brambles, then came a layer of "scraws," or slabs of healthy bog surface, and over all a thatching of rushes. The earthen floor was pared to an approach to a level, the rubbish cleared away, and a pathway made to the public road. There was your hedge schoolhouse, ready for business.—Donahoe's Magazine.

It Killed the Bear.

A man who had experience in Alaska was listening to a group of citizens discussing the weather and broke in on the talk thus:

"Pshaw, you fellows don't know what changeable weather is. You think it's always cold in Alaska, do you? Well, just let me tell you a little personal experience of mine. One day I went hunting with a party of miners. The weather was quite warm when we started, and I perspired freely. Suddenly it turned bitterly cold, and large icicles formed on my whiskers (I had grown a full beard). Crossing a small canyon, I came face to face with a big, ugly looking bear. I had nothing but powder in my gun, and the man with the cartridges was away behind me, so as a desperate resort I rammed the icicles from my beard into the gun and blazed away."

"And what happened?" said one of the crowd eagerly.

"Why, I struck him squarely in the head and killed him."

"Killed him? Impossible!" chorused the crowd.

"But it did, I tell you. The temperature suddenly turned warm again, melting the icicles, and the bear died from water on the brain."—Detroit Free Press.

Chinese Pulse Feeling.

The Chinese physicians, it is well known, have long had the credit of paying very particular attention to the pulse. They even pretend to derive a much more minute and accurate knowledge of the state of the sick from that source than European practitioners lay any claim to.

The patient is directed to be laid in bed, with his arm resting on a small cushion. The physician must be seated, and both parties are enjoined to remain calm, silent and collected. The fingers are next to be applied in due succession, one after another, in order to judge of the compressibility of the artery.

The Chinese do not infer solely from the rapidity of the pulsations. Their mode is to compare the number of pulsations of the artery with the intervals of the respiration of the patient. The number of pulsations of a man in moderate health they consider in relation to the time of a natural inspiration and expiration. Four beats of the pulse during this period they consider as indicating perfect health. If it exceeds five pulsations, it is considered as too quick; if under that number, as too slow respecting good health. It is required to reckon 50 pulsations in order to form a correct indication. Their chief divisions of the pulse are four, the superficial, the profound, the quick and the slow. These they consider as having relation to the four temperaments, the choleric, the sanguine, the phlegmatic and the melancholy.—Health.

A Snake That Crows.

There exists in Venezuela a species of snake of an exceedingly venomous and crafty character. This snake utters a cry that is the almost exact replica of a cock crow. The unwary traveler when walking through the bush will be astonished to hear near at hand this extraordinary crowing. He proceeds toward the spot, when the snake darts out and stings the unfortunate man with its terrible forked tongue. If not taken promptly in hand, the sting will in nine cases out of ten turn out to be fatal.

The black inhabitants of Venezuela are, like all other dark races, very superstitious. And as regards the rattlesnake they have a curious belief. They affirm that if a rattlesnake is captured and the bones in its tail which form the rattle removed the snake will never rest until it has sought out the man that committed the theft and exacted vengeance for the robbery.

They cite instances of men who have taken the rattles and gone far journeys only to be followed by the infuriated snake and killed. Whether there is any truth in this is a matter of conjecture. If half the tales that are told have any truth in them, it would seem superfluous to gainsay the superstition.

Our Old Shinplasters.

An officer of the treasury department estimates that more than $15,000,000 worth of the old fashioned fractional paper currency is still outstanding, and though some of it has doubtless been destroyed the bulk of it is held by collectors and private individuals. Every now and then some old person dies, and the heirs, finding a quantity of the "shinplasters" in a disused pocketbook or some other hiding place, send them to Washington to be redeemed. Occasionally, too, banks forward quite a lot of the notes in unbroken sheets, just as they got them many years ago. At first these sheets had to be cut apart with scissors, but afterward they were perforated like postage stamps so as to be torn apart. Not long ago the treasury received a handkerchief full of this currency of the first issue, each note being signed by Treasurer Spinner with his own hand. About $3,000 worth of this fractional paper comes in for redemption each year, and some of the best of it is saved out by the department to be given away in response to applications from collectors.

One Quite Enough.

"I don't see how any sane man can want more than one wife," he said as he finished reading an article on Turkey.

"Yes; one is quite enough, isn't it, dear?" she returned. "The human heart is not large enough for more than one, and then polygamy always seems to me to so cheapen women too."

"I wasn't thinking of that," he answered. "What bothers me is how any man can go to work deliberately to accumulate troubles—to make a collection, as you might say."—Chicago Post.

ACCUSED THE POLICE.

Member of Committee of 15 Said They Gave Gamblers Tip—Pool Rooms Raided.

New York, April 18.—The committee of fifteen raided seven alleged pool rooms. The raids were made on warrants issued by Justice Jerome and upon evidence obtained by the staff of detectives working for the committee under the direction of Superintendent John McCullough. The raids in each case were personally conducted by individual members of the committee, assisted by their own detectives and policemen of the regular force from the precinct in which the raid was made.

In only one place did the raiders fail to make any arrests, and C. C. Brewster, of the committee, openly says the inmates of the place received a tip from the police that the place was about to be raided.

A feature of the raiding was the effort by at least two of the police officials to prove that the places raided were not pool rooms, but orderly and well conducted clubs.

One on Senator Clark.

In the administration of President Harrison Senator Clark of Wyoming, then a practicing lawyer in the territory, as it was in those days, was appointed a judge of the territorial court. He was not certain about accepting the position, and he went over to have a talk with Judge Corn, the Democratic incumbent.

"Hello, Clark," said the judge. "Have you come over to be sworn in?"

"No," said Clark. "I have not yet made up my mind to take the place."

"Oh, take it by all manner of means," said Judge Corn. "It is a pleasant job, and I think you will like it."

"But," said Clark, "I have a good many private matters to attend to, and I cannot accept for some time yet anyway. If I conclude to take the place, I will let you know."

"All right," said Judge Corn. "Come over and I will swear you in, but," he added, with a laugh, "while I can swear you in, all creation cannot qualify you."

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 263.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1901.

TWO CENTS

SHOT DOWN BY A TRAMP AS HE ENTERED HIS BARN

Andrew Miller, a Wealthy Citizen Near Bayard, This County, the Victim of a Murderous Assault.

THREE BULLETS FIRED AND ALL HIT HIM

He Received Ugly Wounds and Will Probably Die—His Assailant Ran and Officers Are Now Looking For Him—The Motive Is Supposed to Have Been Robbery—Suspicious Strangers Seen by Neighbors—One Suspect Caught by Noragon.

Murder may result from an attack upon Andrew Miller, a prominent and wealthy citizen near Bayard, this county, early this morning.

Miller is at his home in a dangerous condition. His supposed assailant has been arrested and is being hurried by Sheriff Noragon to the scene of the assault, to see if Miller can identify him before he loses consciousness.

Miller, who is about 65 years old, lives on a farm about a mile south-west of Bayard, between that town and Minerva. He is a prosperous farmer and holds stock in the Minerva bank. He is a bachelor and lives with two sisters. He has a hired man whose name is Jacob Adams. Mr. Miller's farm adjoins that which is owned by President McKinley.

About daylight this morning, Mr. Miller, as has long been his custom, went to the barn and assisted his hired man with the chores. Adams was busy currying the horses, and Mr. Miller, who had been in the barn but a few seconds, had started to feed the cows. Suddenly he was accosted by a stranger. Accounts differ as to whether any word was spoken, some asserting that the man said "Good morning, Andrew," while others say that he opened fire without a word. At all events the intruder drew a revolver and fired three shots in rapid succession.

Every shot took effect upon the old man. One struck him in the chest and passed through one lung; another broke his shoulder blade and the third struck him in the face, entering the mouth and breaking some of Mr. Miller's teeth.

Mr. Miller is old but energetic. He gave chase to his assailant, who had taken to his heels after the third shot. But wounded as he was, and bleeding badly, he could not keep up the chase against his younger and sounder rival. He soon sank down exhausted, and as soon as he had rested a little and returned to the house.

Adams, meantime, had joined in the pursuit. He had been a little slow about it. This he explains by saying that the horses were tramping and kicking, making so much noise that he did not hear the shots or know what had occurred until the screams of the excited women in the house attracted his attention. Adams jumped upon a horse, dashed on the road and followed the fugitive, but soon lost all trace of him. The man ran in the direction of East Rochester and then towards New Chambersburg. At the latter place all trace of him was lost. But the people of Moultrie noted the appearance of a suspicious stranger there this morning. He said he was a stock buyer and talked of a carload of stock which he had shipped and was looking after. He walked away along the railroad track. But he kept looking back, as if he expected pursuit. Those who saw and talked with him say he appeared nervous and excited.

Sheriff Noragon and Deputy Bick started out to investigate on the first report of the tragedy reaching Lisbon. The sheriff proceeded to Alliance, where he learned all he could about the tragedy. Thence he went to Homeworth, where he secured a horse and buggy. With all haste he proceeded on the track of the suspicious stranger and overtook him. The man was arrested and the sheriff started with all possible speed for Miller's home. He will take the arrested man there in the hope of arriving before the wounded man loses consciousness.

Latest reports from Bayard are that Miller is likely to die from the wound in his lung.

The motive for the crime is supposed to have been robbery. A suspicious character was seen about the neighborhood yesterday, and it is thought he was lurking in the barn, awaiting an opportunity to rob the house, perhaps when the women were alone there.

The first report that reached the city this morning was far more exciting and sensational than the actual facts. It was to the effect that ex-County Commissioner Elwood Miller, who lives near Adair, was shot by two robbers and was dead. But inquiry soon developed that the ex-commissioner had not been molested, and that somebody had mixed the names of the two Millers.

AN EXCITED CROWD

SURROUNDS MILLER'S HOUSE AND TALKS OF LYNCHING.

The Arrested Man Proves to Be Charles Staub, And Is From Alliance.

Alliance, April 18.—(Special.)—The man arrested by Sheriff Noragon on suspicion of shooting Andrew Miller proves to be Charles Staub, son of John Staub, of this city. His conduct is regarded as suspicious, and it is believed here that he is the right man.

A message just received from Bayard states that there are 500 people around the Miller house, and some of them say they will lynch Staub if Mr. Miller identifies him.

MILLER STILL ALIVE

A message from Bayard says a Salineville report of Miller's death is untrue. Miller was still alive at 3:15. Another arrest is reported at Salineville.

PASSENGERS SHAKEN UP.

CAR 11 JUMPED THE TRACK ON SIXTH STREET

Came Near Standing on End and Ran Six Feet on the Bricks.
Conductor Hurt.

Car No. 11, in charge of Motorman Kinkade, jumped the track at the old Sixth street switch last evening, and about a dozen passengers were more or less shaken up.

The car was bound for Wellsville, and when it reached the switch was running at a high rate of speed. The tracks at the approach to the switch have been out of order for some time, and when No. 11 struck the bad place the front wheels stopped causing the car to almost stand on end. Then it ran for a distance of about six feet, rooting up the bricks along the track. Conductor Lane fared pretty badly. He was standing on the rear platform, and when the jar came he was thrown forward against a window. The window broke, cutting his right hand severely. It was some time before the car was replaced.

METZGER'S SIDE SPRINGS SURPRISE

Judge Hole Is Deliberating on the Legality of the East Liverpool Screen Ordinance—Charles Gallagher's Case Before Judge Boone.

Lisbon, April 18.—(Special.)—When each side were ready to make a start on the arguments for a new trial before Judge Boone today in the Metzger case, the defense sprung a surprise in the shape of six affidavits, which the court was asked to consider. It was announced that another was being prepared and would be presented immediately.

This move changed the plans of the prosecution, and they at once filed a motion for a continuance. Judge Boone will hear arguments this afternoon.

Judge Hole is deliberating on the matter of the legality of the East Liverpool screen ordinance. He said this morning he could not state when he would be prepared to render his decision.

Judge P. M. Smith yesterday presented the matter to the court on behalf of the city, simply citing authorities and references. Briefs were prepared and submitted to the court by the attorneys on each side.

Charles Gallagher, colored, was placed on trial in Judge Boone's court last evening. He is charged with running an immoral house in East Liverpool. The evidence disclosed that the business was conducted by Gallagher on a jobboat on the Ohio river and was a place of the most degraded sort. Judge Boone has taken the matter under advisement, stating that he has no doubt whatever of the guilt of the prisoner, but is in doubt as to whether the crime charged was committed in Ohio or in West Virginia, as the low water mark on the Ohio side is the boundary line of the two states. There is also a question as to whether the statutes applying to a house of the sort Gallagher kept would apply to a boat.

Judge J. G. Moore, receiver of the First National bank of Lisbon, in court today, asked Judge Hole for authority to sell the bank property on the public square. He has been offered $8,000 for it. The court ordered him to sell it.

Luther Wells and Evaline Armstead, of Salem; William P. Rosenberg, of Wellsville, and Augusta Flo-to, of Yellow Creek township; Edward Hollibaugh and Lydia Wilhelm, of Columbiana, have been granted marriage licenses.

The case of Katherine Carraher against the East Liverpool Ice & Coal company was set for hearing in common pleas court this afternoon, but was passed on account of the illness of a material witness.

FOUGHT FIVE WITH A BROOM.

Street Railway Employee's Unsuccessful Experiment.

The "Nancy Hanks" is doing some work near the Riverview cemetery and is compelled to make several trips up the hill during the day. Yesterday afternoon it was on its way up the hill and had reached Grant street when a fuse was blown out and the car became ignited from the burning wires.

The man employed to sweep the track happened to be on the car and he endeavored to beat the fire out with a broom. He was unsuccessful, as the broom caught fire, and, becoming ignited, threw it through a window. He then ran to a well nearby and securing some water extinguished the flames before any great damage was done to the car.

THE BRICKLAYERS' TROUBLES END

A Conference Held Last Evening With the Contractors Resulted In a Settlement.

THERE WILL BE NO STRIKE

The Workmen Will Receive $4 Per Day for Eight Hours—The Relations Between the Building Trades And Employes Cordial.

The anticipated trouble among the building trades is at an end as far as the brick contractors are concerned.

It was the intention of the bricklayers to go out on the first of May unless their demands were acceded to. Shortly after the first of the year, the employes formed a scale of prices which not only provided for a shorter work day, but demanded an increase in pay. It was argued by the contractors that lessening the hours at the old rate of wages would be an increase in the pay, and was about all they could stand.

Numerous discussions and conferences have been held from time to time, but no definite conclusion was reached until last night, when the two sides got together and reached an agreement whereby there will be no further trouble this season.

The basis of the settlement was that the eight-hour day will be granted, but the rate of wages will remain the same. In other words, beginning with the first of May, the bricklayers will receive $4 per day, or 50 cents an hour for eight hours.

Since the hod carriers' strike has been settled, the two principal building trades, namely, the carpenters and bricklayers, are working under conditions which are most satisfactory to all concerned, and a busy season is anticipated.

A MISSING MAN.

He Belongs in Iowa And Officers Here Are Notified.

Chief Thompson this morning received a card containing a minute description of E. B. Wilson, who mysteriously disappeared from his home in Rock Valley, Iowa, on February 1, 1901. The communication was from A. J. Henry, deputy sheriff of Orange county, Ia., and stated that the wife was grief stricken and the family had become destitute.

EAST END.

STARVING A DOG

The Charge Which is Brought By an Officer Against an East End Man.

An East End officer is authority for the statement that action will be brought by the Humane society against an East End man unless he immediately puts an end to an attempt to starve a stray dog which drifted on his premises last week. The man states that the dog followed an English family who moved from Calcutta road to the East End. He says it killed a chicken in his yard and that he locked it up and requested a police officer to shoot it.

The officer refused to do so unless the man tried to find out whether any one claimed the dog. The other man said that he would starve it if the officer would not shoot it. It is claimed that he has not given the animal anything to eat since last Saturday, and still says he will starve it to death.

FELL FROM A TRAIN

Ed Ryan Saved From Death By the Timely Assistance of Tom Collins.

Ed Ryan, a kilnhand at the National pottery, fell under a moving train yesterday and would have been ground to pieces had it not been for the timely assistance of Tom Collins, who was standing near at the time, and who jerked Mr. Ryan from the car, the wheel grazing his head as it passed.

The "pony" was running cars on the siding at this plant and Mr. Ryan caught his toe under a board just as he stepped to the door and fell headlong under a car. The car was moving slowly, which enabled Mr. Collins to pull him from in under it just in time to save his life.

KNOCKED A GIRL DOWN

Charge Made Against Earl Kidder, Aged 12, By Mrs. John Young.

Mrs. John Young made complaint in Justice Carman's court last evening against Earl, the 12-year-old son of Alonzo Kidder, who, she alleges, did "unlawfully beat and abuse" her daughter, aged 11. It seems that a scrap was on between one younger male member of each family and the little girl tried to separate them, whereupon Earl Kidder, who was also looking on, is said to have struck her in the face with sufficient force to knock her down.

Officer Spence was deputized constable and arrested the boy, who pleaded not guilty. His father vouched for his appearance and the case was set for hearing at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Fear the Stack Will Fall.

A rickety smoke stack at the rear of the old Chambers building has caused some anxiety to nearby residents, who claim that it is likely to fall at any time. Either way that it could fall it would strike the roof of a house, which it would doubtless injure considerably. The building belongs to the local building and loan association, and an attempt will be made to have it removed.

Attended a Funeral.

Richard Laughlin and family left this morning for Beaver to attend the funeral of Mr. Laughlin's aunt, Mrs. Johnson Laughlin, who died of a complication of diseases Tuesday night. The funeral services were held at the house at 10 o'clock this morning and interment was made at Salem cemetery, near Black Hawk, Pa.

Hurt By a Fall.

Tom Collins severely injured his arm by falling backwards into the soak box in the sagger shop at the National pottery yesterday morning. He laid off for the remainder of the day, but was able to resume work again this morning.

EAST END BREVITIES.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herbert is very ill. Charles McBee is suffering from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

W. A. Orin has just about completed the work on his new meat shop. He expects to open it up to the public next Saturday.

Miss Kate Hamilton, of Smith's Ferry, is dangerously ill with typhoid fever. Miss Hamilton is well known in the East End.

FOUGHT AND KICKED.

A West End Lad Said to Have Abused Teacher and Aunt—Jethro And Vicinity.

A good deal of excitement was caused among the residents of the West End and the pupils at the school building there by the alleged misconduct of a pupil. James Arb, a youth of 12 years, it is said, has been causing trouble for his mother and teacher for several months. The lad attends school in the second room of the West End building. When the teacher attempted to reprove him for some offense yesterday, it is claimed he fought her desperately, kicking her and tearing her dress and also indulging in bad language.

The teacher seemed unable to handle him and decided to send to the city building for assistance. The boy is reported to have got out of the building, and it is said when his aunt tried to take him home, he treated her in about the same way he had treated the teacher. His sick mother then came after him and neighbors say he threw dirt in her eyes and ran. When he reached Jethro he hid in a chicken coop. One of the older boys started in search of him and found him there later. He tied the youngster's hands and feet and carried him to his home, where he locked him in the cellar.

The boy's father is dead, and it is said that his mother has decided to send him to the reform school, as she is unable to control him. It was stated that the authorities would take him to Lancaster very soon.

Cruelty to Animals Charged.

It is stated that some of the residents of the Lisbon road will make complaint to the Humane society officers against a certain colored man who works a horse without feeding it enough to sustain it. The animal got down in the road last night and was allowed to remain there the rest of the night. It was taken to a stable this morning.

WEST END WHISPERS.

William Anderson is laying a pavement in front of his residence on Eighth street.

William Barton, of Lisbon road, has moved to the McKinnon addition in the East End.

Jesse Bucher has moved his household effects to East Palestine, where he will make his home.

The young son of Charles Morrell, who has been very ill for several weeks, is slowly improving.

R. W. McGhie and wife, of Empire, O., paid a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. D. F. McGhie, of Eighth street.

David Smith, of Lisbon road, has moved his household effects to the house in Jethro vacated by James McCune.

Walter, the eight-year-old son of Robert Twaddle, who has been very ill with catarrhal fever for several weeks, is improving rapidly.

A newsboy who was unusually pert spoiled the profit on several papers by throwing a paper through a large window in the residence of Frank Earle on Seventh street.

LOOKING AFTER THE HORSES.

Agent Miller, of the Humane Society, Watching Cruel Drivers.

Humane Agent Miller has begun the promised crusade against cruelty to animals, and he states the agitation has only started.

Yesterday at the new building being excavated on Sixth street, a horse was noticed which was considerably the worse for work, and was in no condition to perform the task set upon it.

Agent Miller, when he became aware of the condition of the animal, at once ordered it taken from the wagon. The driver was loath to comply at first, but soon learned that the officer meant business.

EX-POSTMASTER SENTENCED.

Jackson, of Maximo, Must Go to Prison And Pay a Fine.

Cleveland, April 18.—John P. Jackson, ex-postmaster at Maximo, O., entered a plea of guilty in the United States district court to the indictment charging him with embezzling post-office funds. Jackson has held the position of agent and telegrapher for the Pennsylvania Railroad company in Maximo for 20 years. He was highly esteemed.

Judge Wing imposed a sentence of six months in the Ohio penitentiary and assessed a fine of $166.77, the amount of the shortage in the accounts of the accused.

MARKET IRREGULAR.

Excessively So on Wednesday—Some Speculators Long of Stock Nervous.

New York, April 18.—Wednesday's market was excessively irregular, showing the decidedly nervous state of mind which speculators have come to be in who are long of stock, as well as the watchful mood for weak points to develop of those who are short. The battle between the two elements waged all day with varying success, and the market closed with the issue apparently undecided, although a review of the net changes for the day will show that the bears had the best of the contest, taking the day through. The bulls contested the onslaught of their opponents with vigor and determination and had fairly the upper hand of them after the opening drive against the market. Even after the last dip in prices, which carried quotations to the lowest of the day, the bulls were still in full array, vigorously supporting prices here and there and boldly manipulating advances in a number of stocks. The only point of positive strength in the list were in the Southwestern railroad division. An effort was made to revive speculative excitement by bringing up the rumors of a Southwestern merger. During the period of the first retreat of the bears the movement in this department proved an effective leadership in the market, led by Kansas and Texas preferred. New York Central and some of the other trunk lines also showed signs of strength, and Sugar, Peoples Gas and the Smelting stocks made effective auxiliaries in the demonstration of the bulls. Very little was left, however, of these advances after the final reaction, but the Atchisons were moved vigorously upwards, the common rising 2 3/4 over Tuesday night, in the final effort of the bulls to turn the market. Prices rallied while the room shorts were uncovered, but went off again on renewed selling, making the closing unsettled and irregular, with some stocks at the lowest.

The threatened strike of iron and steel workers was a continued influence towards depression, and United States Steel stocks were heavy all day, ruling a fraction under Tuesday throughout. The weather bureau's weekly crop report showing retarded developments by reason of cool weather may have had some influence. But the movement of the market was principally due to technical causes. The more favorable money conditions were ignored. The gain by the banks from the sub-treasury, which has already reached $4,000,000 this week, and the arrested overflow of cash to the interior give pretty good assurance of a favorable bank statement on Saturday. The sterling exchange market was rather soft, notwithstanding the increased supply here of loanable funds, so that the outflow of gold is pretty certainly deferred beyond this week. The range of prices during the day was extremely wide, reaching from 2 to 4 points in nearly all of the most active stocks. The bond market continued active, but the price movement was irregular. Total sales, par value, $5,305,000. U. S. old 4s, regular, declined 1/4 and do coupon 1/2 per cent on the last call.

Loomis Made Denial.

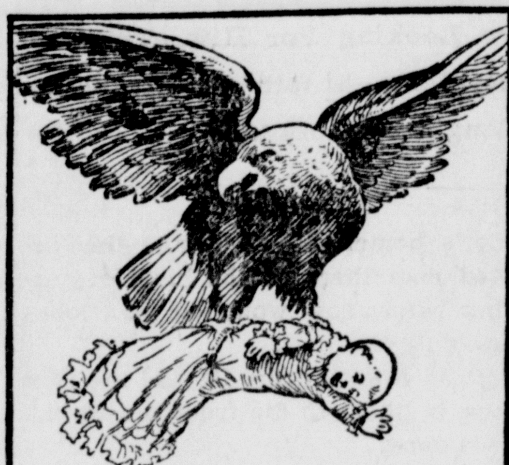

New York, April 18.—Frank B. Loomis, United States minister to Venezuela, gave positive disclaimer to the authorship of the San Juan interviews in which he was made to say some severely critical things about President Castro, and avers that an injustice has been done him in this respect.

Considered McMurray Case.

Harrisburg, April 18.—The board of pardons met and heard argument in the cases of George W. McMurray, of Pittsburg, under sentence of death, and the Shamokin councilmen serving four months in prison for bribery. The board will meet today in executive session to pass upon the cases.

Condition of Mrs. Day Worse.

Canton, April 18.—The condition of Mrs. W. R. Day has again changed for the worse, and her son Stephen has been summoned home from school at Asheville, S. C. Unfavorable symptoms developed, and, while an immediate termination is not expected, hope is growing less.

It Has Happened

More than once that a child has been carried off by an eagle. When such a thing does happen the press rings with the story. There's not a line given by the press to the babies carried off daily by disease. It isn't the fact of the child being taken away that is startling or interesting, it's only when the method of taking off is novel that it excites interest. How many children die who might have been saved if the mother who bore them had been able to give them strength and vitality. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes healthy mothers and healthy mothers have healthy children, strong enough to resist disease if they are attacked.

Mrs. Axel Kjer, of Gordonville, Cape Girardeau Co., Mo., writes: "When I look at my little boy I feel it my duty to write to you. This is my fifth child and the only one who came to maturity; the others having died from lack of nourishment—so the doctor said. 'This time I just thought I would try your 'Prescription.' I took nine bottles and to my surprise it carried me through and gave us as fine a little boy as ever was. Weighed ten and one-half pounds. He is now five months old, has never been sick a day, and is so strong that everybody who sees him wonders at him."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels healthy and regular.

GENERAL IS MISSING

Fire Destroyed the Quarters of Count Von Waldersee at Peking.

CHIEF OF STAFF DISAPPEARED

Large Forces of Chinese Were Said to Have Gathered in Shan Si Province—Well Informed Natives Predicted Further Trouble.

Peking, April 18.—Trustworthy Chinese report that troops in large numbers are massing in the province of Shan Si, near the frontier of the province of Chi Li. Well informed natives prophecy further trouble. It is impossible to ascertain whether the court is playing a double game or its authority is insufficient to prevent the Chinese generals acting in a manner likely to provoke hostilities.

Probably a great deal will depend upon the Franco-German expedition inflicting a severe defeat upon the Chinese who have transgressed the agreement by entering into the sphere of the allies. If these offenders are thoroughly punished it is likely to produce a good effect.

The palace of the empress, inhabited by Count Von Waldersee and his staff, was burned to the ground. Major General Schwartzkopf, Count Von Waldersee's chief of staff, has disappeared. With the exception of the military papers, everything was destroyed.

DUPLICITY OF LI.

A Missionary Brought Conclusive Evidence to Peking.

Peking, April 18.—A missionary named Killie (the Rev. Mr. Kelley, Presbyterian missionary?) returned from San Ho, where Christians were burned to death in December. Mr. Killie reported to General Chaffee that some time ago several of his converts were killed. He had the guilty parties tried in the Chinese courts, where they were convicted and sentenced to death, subject to Li Hung Chang's signature. Mr. Killie came to Peking and saw Li Hung Chang, who said the men should be executed immediately. Upon going to San Ho about three weeks later the missionary found the men alive. He spoke to a judge of the Chinese courts on the matter, who thereupon showed him a letter from Li Hung Chang giving explicit instructions that the men must not be executed, as they had only been convicted on the testimony of Christians, consequently the evidence was untrustworthy. Mr. Killie has a copy of this letter. In the meantime the French had proved the same men guilty of incendiarism and other outrages and demanded their execution, whereupon the judge again showed his orders from Li Hung Chang. The French authorities replied that if the men were not executed within eight days they would take the law into their own hands and punish the Chinese officials likewise.

STATUS OF THE CUBANS.

Cockrell Explains Why Islanders Must Accept Platt Amendment.

Washington, April 18.—Senators Proctor, of Vermont, and Cockrell, of Missouri, had a conference with the president regarding the situation in Cuba. The senators have made trips to the island since the adjournment of congress.

"The Cubans," said Senator Cockrell, "apparently do not fully grasp their status. They are not now a government. They have no power to treat diplomatically with the United States. The present constitutional convention was called into being through our agency. It only has power to submit to the United States for approval a plan or constitution for a representative government. If we reject it outright, the existing status continues. They can do nothing. But if the modifications and conditions which we propose are accepted, then they can proceed to organize a representative government. Until such a government is organized the troops of the United States, in my opinion, cannot be withdrawn. I am firmly convinced that the convention, after it hears the report of the commission which it has sent here will accept the Platt amendment."

AMERICAN CATHOLICS.

THAT CHURCH FLOURISHING IN FREE COUNTRY.

Ireland Dilates on the Church's Progress—Bigotry Disappears. Pallium to Keane.

Dubuque, Ia., April 18.—In St. Raphael's Catholic church Archbishop John J. Keane was invested with the pallium, the insignia of the high position he occupies in the Roman Catholic church.

While the absence of Mgr. Martinelli was marked, it detracted none from the grandeur of the scene, which was far beyond that occasion of Sept. 17, 1893, when Mgr. Satolli, now a member of the Sacred Congregation, Rome, conferred the pallium upon the late Archbishop Hennessey in this same cathedral.

The ceremonies opened with a procession of clergy and attendants, in which the cardinal, archbishops, bishops and priests took part, clad in full vestments of their rank. Passing from the archiepiscopal residence, the procession entered the cathedral and moved up the main aisle to the altar. Within the sanctuary Cardinal Gibbons ascended the throne on the left, which had been yielded to him by Archbishop Keane, the latter occupying a temporary throne on the right which he had erected for himself. About these two principals were Archbishops Keane, St. Louis; Katzer, Milwaukee; Elder, Cincinnati; Ireland, St. Paul, and in their company were Bishops Spaulding and his coadjutor, O'Reilly, Peoria, Ills.; Eis, Marquette, Mich.; Messmer, Green Bay, Wis.; Trobee, St. Cloud, Minn.; O'Gorman, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Tierney, Hartford, Conn.; Cotter, Winona, Minn.; Hennessey, Wichita, Kan.; Foley, Detroit, Mich.; Maes, Covington, Ky.; Schwebach, La Crosse, Wis.; Glennon, Kansas City; Burke, St. Joseph, Mo.; Scannell, Omaha; Burke, Albany, N. Y.; Cosgrove, Davenport, Ia.; Linehan, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Bonacum, Lincoln, Neb.; McCloskey, Louisville, Ky.; Harkins, Providence, R. I.; Janssen, Belleville, Ills.; Chatard, Indianapolis, Ind., and Hobart, Scranton, Pa. Mgr. Ryan, vicar general of the diocese of Dubuque, and nearly 400 priests.

Archbishop Kane, of St. Louis, in full canonicals, ascended the altar and began the celebration of pontifical high mass. His assistant priest was the Very Rev. Mr. Gunn, Cedar Rapids; deacon, the Very Rev. Mr. McLaughlin, Clinton; sub-deacon, the Very Rev. Mr. O'Connor, Carroll, and some 20 others. The Rev. Messrs. Toomey, Danlon, Barry, Fitzpatrick and Carey were masters of ceremonies.

The music was Gounod's "Messe Solennelle," sung by a choir of 60 persons. At the close of the mass Cardinal Gibbons, with imposing ceremony, conferred the pallium upon Archbishop Keane. The cardinal's assistants were the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Ryan, V. G. Dubuque, and the Rev. Clement Johannes, Dubuque. Following the investiture Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, delivered the sermon of the day. A congratulatory address from the clergy of the diocese was made by the Rev. Dr. Carroll, president of St. Joseph's college, Dubuque, and Archbishop Keane's reply closed the ceremonies at the church.

The subject of the installation speech of Archbishop Ireland was on "The Church in America—Its Yesterday and Its Tomorrow." He said in part:

"Three quarters of a century, a half century ago, anti-Catholic prejudice was dominant in the land, our non-Catholic fellow citizens were not to be blamed; they had not known Catholics as Catholics are, and they treated according to what they believed of them. But today in America the reign of ill-feeling and animosity has passed away. In America Catholics and non-Catholics differ from one another in creeds and spiritual allegiance; but, as true Americans, they respect one another and accord to one another their civil and social freedom, all working together in peace and harmony for the greatest weal of society and of country.

"In America the Catholic faith was on trial, and so was democracy itself in its relation with religion, and here is the cause of so many attacks made on the American church. Those attacks covertly are attacks on democracy. It would have been most convenient for reactionary theorists to be able to say to Catholics the world over, your church cannot thrive in a democracy, in the full freedom which democracy insures. Thank God, to such theorists, both America and the Catholic church and American democracy have given the saddest disappointment.

"Let us be just to America, and know and proclaim that nowhere, all things duly considered, is the church freer than in America, is she allowed to live in untrammelled freedom, and to prosper as her forces and the zeal of her sons permit."

SPEAKING OF NEWSPAPERS.

The Pittsburg Times Has Many Excellencies.

With a newsgathering service sweeping the world down to the last second, and with an editorial page the product of judgment, ability, force, discrimination and real humor, the Pittsburg Times is conspicuous as a daily newspaper that is good reading always. It is safe to assert that there are more clippings of news events worth preserving and of general information made from the Times than from any other paper published in Pittsburg. Like a good home, it is tidy, clean, comfortable, and with everything of the best one finds within its pages information, instruction, comfort and pleasure as he may desire. That it conducts no typefounders' vaudeville of freak headlines makes it the pride of the printer's craft. It is not above republishing from the humble country papers and with whatever it uses it invariably gives full credit.

"The Wooden Indian," quaint in his philosophy, has tomahawked to death many a tired, unhappy feeling. The serial story, of the best, is told in installments neither too close together nor too far apart. The editorials are written with sincerity, directness of expression, and reliability of information that make the page the daily text book of many a person in life's school of facts. Giving other people the right of individual opinion it is never a scold nor a nagger. The Times, first and above all, is reliable. Its telegraphic service covers civilization. Its local news is crisp and honest. Its financial and market reports are accurate. The sporting world is covered in an attractive way. The social life is carefully and intelligently cultivated. Six cents a week.

THE WATER PROBLEM.

The state health board is trying to help the cities and towns along the Ohio river to solve the water problem. It is no light task, either for the board or for the cities. But the recommendations of the experts will be of value. It is a needed work which they are undertaking. East Liverpool needs more water to wash in and more to put out fires. She is arranging to secure the supply. But water to drink is quite as important. The man who drinks city water now does so at the risk of his health and perhaps of his life. No amount of filtration can assure absolute purity. But it all helps toward that desideratum.

The state board of health will deserve a vote of thanks if it will teach us how to treat the water supply so that to drink it raw will not be dangerous. And while we are awaiting its advice and the result of its chemical examinations, those who are wise will strain the water they drink and then boil it. Chunks of earth and microbes too large to pass through an old-fashioned cullender can be removed with ease and used for street building or fertilizing purposes. The rest of the sediment will settle if you give it time. The bacteria not large enough to walk to a place of safety can be killed by boiling the water. It is a vexatious solution of the problem, but it is the only one that is reasonably safe.

THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR.

The Chinese question, the Philippine problem, the Russo-Japanese controversy and even the predicted strike must soon be relegated to an inconspicuous position. The base ball season has now opened. The great question of the hour will be, "What's the score?" It will interest youths of sixteen and men of sixty. It will be discussed on street corners, in hotels, clubs and public places and in the seclusion of the home. Base ball is the great American game. It is a good one, and good Americans admire it. Properly conducted, it is a healthful, mahly sport. Not to take interest in it argues that you are no longer young, either in feeling or in years. The public is waiting and watching. Play ball!

NO LENIENCY FOR THEM.

Revelations at Manila prove that we need a better army, if not a larger one. The man who violates a soldier's oath and robs the government he is sworn to serve is no common felon, and the severest punishment the law permits is no more than he merits. Uncle Sam will act unwisely if he screens any man who has betrayed his trust or disgraced his uniform. The best sentiment of the nation as well as that of the army will uphold the government in making an example of the officers mixed up in the commissary frauds.

The opinion of Judge Hole, as stated by S. R. Dixon, in these columns yesterday, ought to settle the controversy over the powers of the city board of equalization. It exactly coincides with that of Prosecuting Attorney Brookes. Under it any citizen who has been unjustly or unreasonably treated in the decennial appraisal can have his wrongs righted. This is as it should be. Citizens who do not make a stand for their rights will have themselves to blame if they do not get justice.

The great Fitzsimmons has distinguished himself by whipping his wife because she would not kiss him. We thought Fitz was a decent man for a prize fighter. But lives of great men in that line all remind us that nobody can long remain a pugilist and be decent.

The state chemist has ordered samples of East Liverpool water, but not to drink. He would not be so rash as that.

A pretty girl with a mouthful of slang is as repulsive as if she were pock-marked and toothless.

The Pennsylvania legislature seems to be unnecessarily prolonging a useless existence.

Idleness is a crime when work abounds.

STEBENVILLE PRESBYTERY.

Work Accomplished At the U. P. Meeting at Waynesburg.

The Steubenville U. P. presbytery, which met this week at Waynesburg, O., elected Rev. T. V. Milligan, of Oak Ridge, moderator. Resignations were: Rev. W. W. Morton, from Beech Springs; Rev. Laughbaum, from Madison; Rev. J. R. Jones, from Yellow Creek; commissioners to general assembly, Rev. Kirkbride, Rev. T. V. Milligan, Prof. McElroy, Mr. Smith.

Stated supplies are: Rev. Finley, for Amsterdam, East Springfield and Annapolis, one year; Rev. W. W. Morton, for Center Unity, until next meeting; Rev. George W. McMillan, for Bacon Ridge and Richmond, for one year; Rev. N. K. Crowe, for Harlem, Kilgore and Nebo, for one year.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT.

Speedy Resumption of Work at Union Pottery Probable.

The prospects are very bright for the early resumption of operations at the Union pottery.

F. W. Fowler, one of the principal stockholders, was in the city yesterday looking over the ground. He returned to Pittsburg last evening and will be in East Liverpool again tomorrow. It is likely that a meeting will be held the latter part of the week, and action taken which will determine the time for starting the plant.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Whistler is planning a noteworthy exhibition of his paintings, etchings, lithographs, etc., to be held in Paris before this season ends.

Hamlin Garland, the author, has bought from his father and brother the old Garland homestead in West Salem, Wis., and it is probable he will again make his home there.

Robert Buchanan, the well known English author, has broken down in health, and his return to literary life is now considered impossible. A movement is on foot in England to assist him financially, as his business affairs are in bad condition.

Miss Carol H. Beck of Philadelphia has received from Andrew Carnegie a commission to copy the portrait of William Penn in the collection of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania. The portrait will be presented by Mr. Carnegie to the Penn society of New York.

The sculptor Prince Troubetzkol, husband of Amelie Rives, is now completing a statue of "Tolstoi on Horseback." The famous writer's ill health during the past few weeks has compelled the sculptor to do much of his work indoors instead of in the open air, as formerly.

And Still She Wept.

Toto was crying. "What's the matter?" asked one of her father's friends. "I've lost my 2 cents!" she wailed. "Well, never mind. Here are 2 cents," said the friend.

Soon Toto was crying harder than ever. "What's the matter now?" she was asked.

"I'm crying because if I hadn't lost my 2 cents I'd had 4 now!" was her reply.—Detroit Free Press.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

Mr. George C. Heisler has sold his interest in the Heisler-Bence Shoe company to John C. Wallace and from now on this store will be known as the Sleepless Shoe firm, a name that the new promoters will defend with their eyes wide open (during business hours). Their eyes will be open to any and all new ideas for the best interests of their patrons. They invite the public of East Liverpool to call and inspect their shoes, promising to give the best obtainable for the price.

STATE LINES.

Kansas still finds it easier to enact new liquor laws than to enforce those it already has.—Philadelphia Ledger.

If Texas can't keep the eyes of the world riveted on her in one way, she does it in another. It's either oil wells, cyclones or chases after outlaws.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Surprise is expressed in South Dakota over the discovery of a farmer who is worth half a million, but with the wonderful resources of the soil of that state the marvel is there are not more like him.—Minneapolis Tribune.

INSECT LIFE.

The largest American fly is a little over half an inch in length.

In the pupa state the Hessian fly can scarcely be distinguished from a flaxseed.

The worker wasps, like the worker bees, are smaller than the queens or males.

Butterflies are said to be very sleepy headed. Twilight sends them to bed, and they are still drowsy at sunrise.

ELECTRIC SPARKS.

Free electricity travels at the same rate as light, 186,000 miles a second. Through wire electricity moves at only 16,000 miles a second.

It has been discovered that the best way to break a horse from kicking is to give him an electric shock. If properly administered, it does not injure the animal, and it supersedes the brutal whipping.

POWDER AND BALL.

One pattern of small arm will now be used by American fighting men ashore and afloat, and the army rifle is fast being placed aboard the warships.

The British war office has declined to form a volunteer corps of motor vehicle operators. It, however, expressed a willingness to accept the services of individual automobilists in case of an emergency.

Audience Well Pleased.

"The Village Postmaster," as played at the Grand last night, is one of the most attractive rural dramas ever given in this city. Archie Boyd rendered the leading role in that quaint, yet pathetic style that made him so popular with theater-goers in this city on two previous occasions when he appeared in "The Old Homestead" and "Shore Acres." The work of the entire cast was excellent and the play was interesting and fascinating from start to finish. There was a well-filled house.

GENTLEMAN IN JAIL.

ENGLISHMAN AT WARREN COMPLAINS OF TREATMENT.

Gets the Consul to Take Up His Case. Unlawful Imprisonment Alleged.

Warren, O., April 18.—On the night of February 18, a window of a school house in Farmington township was forced open and two tourists spent the night there. When one of the men left the building, he took with him a pair of shoes and other articles belonging to the teacher, Edward Hitchcock. Hitchcock taught no school next day, but turned detective and traced the men to Warren, where they were arrested. One of them was wearing the shoes. Both were held to common pleas court by Mayor Ward in the sum of $500, and they have since been in the Warren jail, awaiting trial next month.

The men gave their names as Thomas Bates and William Dalrymple. The latter recently wrote to the British consul, Hon. Wilford Powell, at Philadelphia, asking his assistance in securing his release. In his letter to the consul Dalrymple claimed to be a British subject. He said he was born in Chigwell, Essex, where he received an excellent education. He claims that his father served in the Ninety-fifth Foot for 23 years, and died in the civil service of the crown at Chatham dockyard.

He told the consul the only evidence against him was that he was in the company of a man who had stolen property; that the mayor of Warren had refused him a proper hearing, and that he had been unlawfully imprisoned.

The British consul had taken the matter up with Prosecuting Attorney E. E. Roberts, asking for information in the case, and claiming Dalrymple as a British subject, desires his release.

Dalrymple has also written a letter to the prosecutor. His writing is like copper-plate. He offers to make known some information that would clear up a number of mysterious robberies in Trumbull county in the past years, providing his release is forthcoming. In conversation the prisoner shows a choice of language not usually found among criminals.

POTTERS' LEAGUE.

MEETING CALLED TO CONSIDER QUESTION OF CONTINUING.

Numerous Base Ball Teams Organizing—A First-Class One Is Demanded.

President Chal Stewart, of the Old Potters' League, has called a meeting of that association for Friday evening of this week, at which time a report will be made by M. P. McCullough, treasurer of the league.

The advisability of continuing the organization will be discussed, but it is hardly likely this course will be pursued, as the league was not a success last year in point of attendance or financially.

This, however, will not prevent an agitation being started for a first-class team for this city. As has been stated on more than a dozen occasions, there is an abundance of good material in East Liverpool, and it needs only a little encouragement to bring it to the front.

The Phoenix team has already been organized and an active season is anticipated by the members. They have arranged games with Bethany college and Kiskiminetas.

The Hill Tops will be stronger than ever this season and have booked several games to be played within the next two weeks.

It is said that no less than three base ball teams have been organized in the West End.

A movement has been started to form a ball club among the members of the Y. M. C. A.

The Jiggermen Won.

As a Food For the Skin.

To Make It Smooth, Healthy and Beautiful, Dr. Chase's Ointment is Hailed by Thousands of Fair Women.

Every woman, no matter how beautiful her skin, finds need at times of some preparation to overcome the redness and roughness, and to cure the pimples, blackheads and skin irritations.

Powders may cover up the disfiguring eruptions, but can never cure them, and are positively injurious because they clog up the pores of the skin. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a food for the skin. It is readily absorbed, and thoroughly cures each and every skin disease, making the skin smooth, soft and clear.

No woman's toilet is complete without Dr. Chase's Ointment, for besides being the most perfect skin beautifier obtainable it can be used in a score of different ways. It absolutely cures eczema, salt rheum and the itching to which women are especially subject.

When the feet are sore and chafed with walking an application of Dr. Chase's Ointment takes out the smarting and allays the inflammation in a surprisingly short time. Then for burns, scalds and every sort of chafing, irritation or eruption of the skin Dr. Chase's Ointment affords a safe and certain cure. It has come to be indispensable in scores of thousands of homes in the United States; 50 cent a box, at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

FRIENDLY TO LABOR

Assertion of W. P. Hamilton Concerning the Great Morgan Firm.

AMALGAMATED DID NOT ACT

Advisory Committee Adjourned Until Today—Col. French, of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, Trying to Arrange the Differences.

Pittsburg, April 18.—The advisory board of the Amalgamated association, which met to consider the strike at McKeesport and the request of President Shaffer to declare as a last resort a general strike in all the plants of the United States Steel corporation, adjourned without taking action, as far as made public, to meet again today.

The entire matter was held over until today, pending the arrival of two members of the board who are expected this morning. Meantime, yesterday's developments in the McKeesport trouble showed the national officials a ray of hope, and the members of the board believed last night that there was a chance of a settlement today. President T. J. Shaffer himself said the prospects were much brighter than they had been in the forenoon.

Colonel G. Watson French, of Youngstown, O., vice president of the Republic Iron and Steel company, which is independent of the Morgan combine, is the man who may bring the opposing parties together. He spent yesterday in the city and was at the meeting of the board during the afternoon. After hearing the men's side of the difficulty Colonel French promised to use every influence he could bring to bear on his friends in the American Sheet Steel company to secure a settlement. Last night Colonel French was still in the city, and members of the advisory board confidently expected another proposition today from the American Sheet Steel company.

If the board does not hear from the company today President Shaffer will ask for the passage of a resolution authorizing him to call out the employees of the Sheet Steel company, or of the entire Morgan combine, at his discretion.

John Jarrett, representing the company, addressed the committee, detailing the company's side of the dispute and urging that the contemplated strike order be delayed at least until after the coming national convention in Milwaukee in May.

New York, April 18.—William P. Hamilton, of J. P. Morgan & Co., when asked concerning the strike of the employees of the American Sheet Steel company at McKeesport, made the following statement:

"I see that one of the labor leaders has spoken of the danger of a spread of the strike. I assume that it is his duty to speak in this manner."

"But as far as this firm is concerned, its attitude toward labor is well known. We are friendly, and there is no possibility of a clash."

TRAGEDY AND WEDDING.

Sister of Bride Killed Going to the Church.

Pittsburg, April 18.—St. James' church, on Main street, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Lizzie Mitchell, of No. 112 Atwood street, thirty-sixth ward, to Thomas Mee, a well-known young man of the West End.

Miss Rosie Mitchell, sister of the bride, was late, and to hasten to the church took a short cut and turned down Mill street. This was a few minutes before 9 o'clock. Mill street is very steep and Miss Mitchell tripped and fell. She was unconscious when picked up and was carried into the home of Mrs. O'Dowd, nearby.

Help was immediately summoned and Drs. Miller and Hoffman arrived. They at once pronounced the young woman dead from a broken neck, which was sustained by the fall. The body was then taken home, but the bridal party had driven to the train without being notified of the tragic happening. They were intercepted, however, and postponed their journey.

Miss Mitchell was 23 years old.

GREASY CHOSEN.

Elected Chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Committee. Washburn Was Denounced.

Harrisburg, April 18.—Representative William T. Creasy, of Columbia county, was unanimously elected state chairman of the Democracy of Pennsylvania by the Democratic state committee at its annual meeting held here. Mr. Creasy's name was the only one presented to the meeting.

The committee got into a tangle over a resolution condemning Senator O. R. Washburn, of Crawford county, for his "hypocrisy, treachery and infidelity" in joining the ranks of the Republican party, and another resolution reproaching certain senators and representatives for having voted with the Quay Republicans on several measures passed by the legislature. The resolutions were finally adopted in the original form they were presented.

Washburn's name was the only one specifically mentioned.

The threatened contest over the control of the organization in Philadelphia was launched in the shape of a resolution appointing a committee to reorganize the party in that city. On a vive voce vote it was defeated. A division was called for, which was quickly followed by a motion to adjourn, and the motion was declared carried by Chairman Creasy, thus cutting off further action on the matter.

PENNSY REACHING OUT.

Said to Have Secured Large Blocks of Santa Fe.

New York, April 18.—The Mail and Express published the following yesterday afternoon:

"There is excellent authority for the statement that prominent men representing the Pennsylvania railroad have recently bought large blocks of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe stock, and before long the former will be invited to name several directors of the latter company. These purchases are believed to aggregate more than 200,000 shares, largely of preferred."

"There are several reasons why the Pennsylvania should make such a move. For a long time it has had close traffic relations with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, but now that the company is about to pass into the control of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies, the Pennsylvania cannot be so sure about the conservation of its interests on trans-continental traffic."

"It has been the policy of the Pennsylvania not to extend beyond Chicago and St. Louis. From what can be learned there will be no physical connection between that company and the Atchison by lease or otherwise."

That's the Great Secret of East Liverpool Praise Given to Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

There come times to every life when a lack of strength—failing appetite—poor circulation—weak heart action and many other symptoms may break in. They are not diseases—the person may not be laid up until they have existed a long time. The influence of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is to create nerve force, and immediately people find themselves getting well because nerve force controls every vital organ of the body.

Mr. W. S. Gaston, of No. 264 Fifth street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Owing to a functional or nervous trouble and an impaired digestion my heart action was weak and irregular. The condition was far from pleasant and I was induced to get a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills at Larkins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets. I am pleased that I did so, as the medicine has so strengthened the nervous system and digestion that the heart action is regular and strong and feel otherwise well and generally pleased with the result."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medical company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

SOUTH CAROLINA CONVICTS BUILDING ROADS.

The citizens of South Carolina have been aroused by the discovery that unscrupulous contractors have so taken advantage of the convict labor system of the state as to establish what amounts to a return to slavery. Suits have been brought against several offending contractors, and the state officials are determined to bring them to justice. It is probable that the practice of hiring out prisoners to the operators of convict camps will be radically changed, if not abolished. The scene here given shows a group of convicts, guarded by men with rifles, at work on the highway.

Captain Read stated that he had had trouble in straightening the accounts of some of his clerks.

Boston, April 18.—The prudential committee of the American board decided to send a deputation to India and Ceylon to inspect mission work there. The Rev. Dr. J. E. Loba, of Evanston, Ills., and William F. Whittemore, of Boston, have been appointed on this work, together with Secretary Barton, in charge of these missions. Trenton, N. J., April 18.—The coroner's jury appeared to inquire into the cause of the death of Thomas F. Applegate, the farmer, whose body was found in his barn on Sunday morning, March 10, rendered a verdict declaring the jury's belief that Applegate came to his death by violence and that from threats made by Samuel Shinn against Applegate that he came to his death at the hands of Shinn. Shinn is in jail.

BRINGING MARTINELLI'S HAT.

Papal Delegate Cabled to Take a Fast Steamer.

Washington, April 18.—The officials of the papal delegation here have been rather apprehensive lest the cardinal's red hat, to be conferred on Archbishop Martinelli, would not arrive in time for the ceremony prior to the departure of Cardinal Gibbons for Rome. It seemed that the papal delegate who is bringing the hat to this country decided, probably through motives of economy, to take one of the slow steamers, which would have been 18 days on the Atlantic.

At this rate, the ceremony could not have taken place at the appointed time. In order to expedite affairs a cablegram was sent urging him to take one of the fastest steamers, and this is likely to bring him here in time for carrying out the program already determined upon.

To Spend Some Time at Canton.

Washington, April 18.—President McKinley was not contemplating purchasing a summer home in West Washington, in which to spend the summer, as reported. After the New England trip, which will follow on the heels of the trip to the Pacific coast, the president and Mrs. McKinley will go to Canton and the major portion of the heated season will be spent quietly at home there.

Mr. Grafton gave the thing a jerk and it gave away so quickly that his right hand came in contact with the sharp tool with such force as to inflict a nasty cut between the fingers of his right hand. The wound was very deep and caused considerable pain. Mr. Grafton hastened to the office of Dr. Parke, who stopped the flow of blood and dressed the wound.

Wheeling, April 18.—State Commissioner of Labor I. V. Barton talks interestingly of the Free Public Employment office and other matters pertaining to the bureau of labor, and to a representative of the Register yesterday he said:

"The Free Public Employment office is now established, with the reorganization of the bureau of labor. Both of these institutions will have headquarters in Wheeling for the present. However, the employment office will always remain in this city from the fact that Wheeling is the manufacturing and labor employment center of the state. This department is one of the new features of the bureau of labor, and, while it is an experiment, it is believed by the commissioner that its importance will be so great to the general public that there will be a necessity for it to become one of the permanent institutions of the state.

"For the present, and for the sake of economy, the employment office has been placed in charge of the bureau of labor, and the commissioner will carry on a live, up-to-date employment office, without charge to those who may apply for employment, help or other information. The act creating the employment office embraces all branches of industry, agricultural and domestic help included.

"The bureau of labor is now purely a labor institution. For the first time within its history, it has been entirely eliminated from political and other influence. Too much cannot be said of the fairness and wisdom of Governor White; nor, can too much credit be given him for the willing part he has taken in bringing about this desired change."

The Irish Hedge School.

The educational structure for which, taking advantage of the toleration of government, the hedge schoolmaster abandoned his al fresco establishment, was a very humble one of its kind. The peasantry, animated by the strong Irish love of learning, built it for him, just as in modern days they assemble and build huts for evicted tenants.

It was not a very formidable undertaking. A deep, dry ditch or trench by the roadside was usually selected for the site. At the side of the trench an excavation of the requisite area was dug, so that the clay bank formed three sides of the inclosure. This saved the trouble of building walls. Then the fourth side, or front side wall, with a door and two windows, was built of green sods laid in courses, while similar sods raised the back to the required height and pointed the gable ends.

Young trees and wattles cut from the nearest wood and bound together with straw ropes and withes formed the roof timbers. Over these were spread brambles, then came a layer of "scraws," or slabs of healthy bog surface, and over all a thatching of rushes. The earthen floor was pared to an approach to a level, the rubbish cleared away, and a pathway made to the public road. There was your hedge school-house, ready for business.—Donahoe's Magazine.

It Killed the Bear.

A man who had experience in Alaska was listening to a group of citizens discussing the weather and broke in on the talk thus:

"Pshaw, you fellows don't know what changeable weather is. You think it's always cold in Alaska, do you? Well, just let me tell you a little personal experience of mine. One day I went hunting with a party of miners. The weather was quite warm when we started, and I perspired freely. Suddenly it turned bitterly cold, and large icicles formed on my whiskers (I had grown a full beard). Crossing a small canyon, I came face to face with a big, ugly looking bear. I had nothing but powder in my gun, and the man with the cartridges was away behind me, so as a desperate resort I rammed the icicles from my beard into the gun and blazed away."

"And what happened?" said one of the crowd eagerly.

"Why, I struck him squarely in the head and killed him."

"Killed him? Impossible!" chorused the crowd.

"But it did, I tell you. The temperature suddenly turned warm again, melting the icicles, and the bear died from water on the brain."—Detroit Free Press.

In China criminals and political prisoners are beheaded. Some of the executioners are so expert that they can arrange and behead a man in 18 seconds.

No military parade or drill except in case of war, riot, invasion or insurrection is lawful on election day in New York.

Chinese Pulse Feeling.

The Chinese physicians, it is well known, have long had the credit of paying very particular attention to the pulse. They even pretend to derive a much more minute and accurate knowledge of the state of the sick from that source than European practitioners lay any claim to.

The patient is directed to be laid in bed, with his arm resting on a small cushion. The physician must be seated, and both parties are enjoined to remain calm, silent and collected. The fingers are next to be applied in due succession, one after another, in order to judge of the compressibility of the artery.

The Chinese do not infer solely from the rapidity of the pulsations. Their mode is to compare the number of pulsations of the artery with the intervals of the respiration of the patient. The number of pulsations of a man in moderate health they consider in relation to the time of a natural inspiration and expiration. Four beats of the pulse during this period they consider as indicating perfect health. If it exceeds five pulsations, it is considered as too quick; if under that number, as too slow respecting good health. It is required to reckon 50 pulsations in order to form a correct indication. Their chief divisions of the pulse are four, the superficial, the profound, the quick and the slow. These they consider as having relation to the four temperaments, the choleric, the sanguine, the phlegmatic and the melancholy.—Health.

A Snake That Crows.

There exists in Venezuela a species of snake of an exceedingly venomous and crafty character. This snake utters a cry that is the almost exact replica of a cock crow. The unwary traveler when walking through the bush will be astonished to hear near at hand this extraordinary crowing. He proceeds toward the spot, when the snake darts out and stings the unfortunate man with its terrible forked tongue. If not taken promptly in hand, the sting will in nine cases out of ten turn out to be fatal.

The black inhabitants of Venezuela are, like all other dark races, very superstitious. And as regards the rattlesnake they have a curious belief. They affirm that if a rattlesnake is captured and the bones in its tail which form the rattle removed the snake will never rest until it has sought out the man that committed the theft and exacted vengeance for the robbery.

They cite instances of men who have taken the rattles and gone far journeys only to be followed by the infuriated snake and killed. Whether there is any truth in this is a matter of conjecture. If half the tales that are told have any truth in them, it would seem superfluous to gainsay the superstition.

Our Old Shipplasters.

An officer of the treasury department estimates that more than $15,000,000 worth of the old fashioned fractional paper currency is still outstanding, and though some of it has doubtless been destroyed the bulk of it is held by collectors and private individuals. Every now and then some old person dies, and the heirs, finding a quantity of the "shipplasters" in a disused pocketbook or some other hiding place, send them to Washington to be redeemed. Occasionally, too, banks forward quite a lot of the notes in unbroken sheets, just as they got them many years ago. At first these sheets had to be cut apart with scissors, but afterward they were perforated like postage stamps so as to be torn apart. Not long ago the treasury received a handkerchief full of this currency of the first issue, each note being signed by Treasurer Spinner with his own hand. About $3,000 worth of this fractional paper comes in for redemption each year, and some of the best of it is saved out by the department to be given away in response to applications from collectors.

One Quite Enough.

"I don't see how any sane man can want more than one wife," he said as he finished reading an article on Turkey.

"Yes; one is quite enough, isn't it, dear?" she returned. "The human heart is not large enough for more than one, and then polygamy always seems to me to so cheapen women too."

"I wasn't thinking of that," he answered. "What bothers me is how any man can go to work deliberately to accumulate troubles—to make a collection, as you might say."—Chicago Post.

The Masculine View.

Gentleman—My wife has lost her water-proof, and she wished me to stop in here and order another sent up at once, as it looks like rain.

Dealer—Yes, sir. What sort, sir?

Gentleman—Um—I've forgotten the name, but it's one of those that make a woman look better dressed in wet weather than she is in dry weather.—New York Weekly.

To Philip Sober.

When a woman who asked Philip of Macedon to do her justice was scrubbed by the petulant monarch, she exclaimed, "Philip, I shall appeal against this judgment."

"Appeal!" thundered the enraged king. "And to whom will you appeal?" "To Philip sober," was her reply.

ACCUSED THE POLICE.

Member of Committee of 15 Said They Gave Gamblers Tip—Pool Rooms Raided.

New York, April 18.—The committee of fifteen raided seven alleged pool rooms. The raids were made on warrants issued by Justice Jerome and upon evidence obtained by the staff of detectives working for the committee under the direction of Superintendent John McCullough. The raids in each case were personally conducted by individual members of the committee, assisted by their own detectives and policemen of the regular force from the precinct in which the raid was made.

In only one place did the raiders fail to make any arrests, and C. C. Brewster, of the committee, openly says the inmates of the place received a tip from the police that the place was about to be raided.

A feature of the raiding was the effort by at least two of the police officials to prove that the places raided were not pool rooms, but orderly and well conducted clubs.

One on Senator Clark.

In the administration of President Harrison Senator Clark of Wyoming, then a practicing lawyer in the territory, as it was in those days, was appointed a judge of the territorial court. He was not certain about accepting the position, and he went over to have a talk with Judge Corn, the Democratic incumbent.

"Hello, Clark," said the judge. "Have you come over to be sworn in?"

"No," said Clark. "I have not yet made up my mind to take the place."

"Oh, take it by all manner of means," said Judge Corn. "It is a pleasant job, and I think you will like it."

"But," said Clark, "I have a good many private matters to attend to, and I cannot accept for some time yet anyway. If I conclude to take the place, I will let you know."

"All right," said Judge Corn. "Come over and I will swear you in, but," he added, with a laugh, "while I can swear you in, all creation cannot qualify you."

DOGS ON THE STAGE.

Leaping For the Villain's Neck—Very Sensitive Animal.

Four legged animals in drama are of course a very common sight today. Although they are often of far more importance than the mere super, they have an affinity to that class, for their is no speaking part, unless one counts the bark of a dog as such.

A little time ago the writer met an actor who was taking the part of a villain in a play wherein a big mastiff seizes him at the back of the neck just as he (the villain) was about to murder the heroine. "Nasty part, that of yours. How do you manage to escape nightly being bitten by that big brute of a dog?" "Not a nice part, it is true," he answered, "but the dog is well trained. He is kept without food for a few hours before the show. A piece of cooked liver is tied to my neck. He is held in the wings till the cue comes, then he rushes on to me for his supper, and the curtain goes down on a very effective tableau. I don't object to the dog. It's the liver."

The mention of stage dogs brings to mind an amusing incident that occurred in a well known theatrical agent's office last summer. In came a rough looking little man wearing a check suit that once used to speak out for itself, but was now silenced by the heavy hand of time. The man was followed by a dog of attractive appearance. The visitor said he did a "tramp act," assisted by the animal. Then they gave an exhibition of themselves and were certainly above the average. "What are your terms?" the agent queried. "Ten pounds a week." "I'll give you two." The imitation tramp—but he was not far from the real thing—looked with a sad, reproachful eye at the agent and silently backed out of the office, the dog meekly following. However, within a few seconds the man returned, quickly closing the door to exclude his partner, who clamored to get in. "I'll take it," he said in a hurried whisper. "Where's the contract? I'm real broke, so it's a clear case of push; but, for heaven's sake, don't mention the price where the dog can hear you."—Chambers' Journal.
